Cartwright Found Guilty Of Robbery

Court Sentences Accused to OSP For 10-25 Years

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court petit jury today reached a verdict of guilty against Thomas M. Cartright, 35, Flagstaff, Ariz. He was charged with participating in the armed robbery of Mom and Pop's Place, Route 2, Williamsport, on Sept. 5, 1958.

County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer sentenced Cartwright from 10 to 25 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary at 1:30 p. m. County Sheriff's officials indicated he would be taken to the penitentiary today.

A ripple of excitement went went through the sparsely filled courtroom when the jury announced it had reached a verdict in 35 minutes to equal the time it took Judge Ammer to deliver his charge.

The jury retired at 11:05 a. m. and returned at 11:40 a. m. Court officials were confident of a conviction due to the swiftness of the jury's decision.

* * *

CARTRIGHT, suspected of attempting to break out of the County Jail twice since his confinement last October, took the verdict calmly, as if he knew the result beforehand.

His girlfriend, Evelyn Kilgore, who was sitting behind Cartwright, sobbed after hearing the verdict.

Cartwright, formerly of Washington C. H., was indicted by the September term of the County Grand Jury, accused of participating in the Sept. 5, 1958 holdup of the combination grocery and service station near Williamsport. He was apprehended last September by the Arizona office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a Flagstaff policeman.

Returned here to face trial, Cartwright was bound to the Grand Jury under $25,000 bond by Circleville Municipal Court.

Cartwright denied participation in the crime, saying he was in Flagstaff at the time of the robbery. The state presented numerous witnesses who testified he held the gun in the holdup and was in Greenfield and Washington C. H. immediately prior to the armed robbery.

After opening arguments yesterday, William Kadel, owner of Mom and Pop's Place, took the stand for the prosecution's first witness.

* * *

HE TESTIFIED that around noon on September 5, 1958 an automobile drove up and Cartwright, who Kadel positively identified, entered his store.

He said Cartwright asked for a pack of cigarettes and then pulled a blue steel 22 calibre revolver and ordered him to get a sack.

Kadel said he told the man to get his own sack, which he did. Approximately $42 was taken from Kadel's cash register.

County Prosecutor Ray W. Davis, 114½ N. Court St., brought out from Kadel's testimony that he identified Cartwright as the holdup man Friday in County Jail and also recognized him from a photograph.

The state's arguments suffered a setback when the next witness, Paul Hurles, took the stand. Hurles in September, 1958, plead guilty to participating in the holdup and was sentenced from 10 to 25 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus.

Hurles yesterday testified that he and Virgil Boggs held up Mom and Pop's Place and that Cartwright was not involved. Boggs also pleaded guilty to the holdup and is serving an identical sentence at the state penitentiary.

HURLES said Boggs held the gun on Kadel, not Cartwright. Upon examination, Hurles admitted that Friday he indicated to Davis and Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff that Cartwright was involved in the robbery.

He said that on Friday he wanted to "finger" Cartwright and get him in the "pen". Yesterday he said he decided he didn't want to get Cartwright mixed up in the affair.

After this setback for the state, Hurles was questioned no further and Boggs was not asked to testify. They both were returned to the

India Officials Hope Khrush Can Help Calm Red Chinese

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian officials eagerly await the arrival Thursday of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. They consider him the only person who might induce Red China to retreat in the bitter dispute over the border between India and Tibet.

India's leaders attach about the same importance to Khrushchev's four-day visit as that given to President Eisenhower's visit last December.

Eisenhower's coming was regarded by many as a veiled warning to Peiping against using force to seize 50,000 square miles of border territory claimed by both India and Communist China. The President did not disappoint his Indian listeners when he told parliament that the United States is ready to come to the aid of its friends in the event of aggression.

Khrushchev is viewed more as an "honest broker" — one who might use his top Communist position to persuade Red China to ease its claims.

Indian leaders, from Prime Minister Nehru down, have been encouraged by Khrushchev's refusal to take sides in the dispute. But there has been concern over the Communist chief's description of the dispute as a misunderstanding.

"Misunderstanding is precisely what it is not," declared the influential Hindustan Times in a recent editorial.

The newspaper pointed out that India has explained its position in scores of notes and letters over the past five years—that the disputed territory is India's legally and historically.

Nehru will get an opportunity to reiterate that position in talks with Khrushchev Thursday and Friday. The Soviet leader's reaction could profoundly influence future Indian attempts to negotiate the dispute. It also may provide the outside world with some insight into the often enignatic relations between Moscow and Peiping.

In 1955 Western observers complained that India's nonalignment policy was set in the direction of communism. Communist observers feel India now is nonaligned in the other direction.

Labor Criticism Of Negro Eyed

Meany's Jab at Solon To Boomerang, Fear

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Some AFL-CIO officials expressed fear today that President George Meany's criticism of a Negro congressman may boomerang against achieving organized labor's political and legislative goals.

These officials said privately they are worried that Meany's remarks may tend to harden Negro workers' feelings against the AFL-CIO and result in even more difficulty in getting labor-wanted measures through Congress.

Meany said Monday that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), due to become chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee next year, is a "terrible person" to head the committee.

The AFL-CIO chief said Powell has a poor congressional voting and attendance record and stirs up racial hatreds. Powell is in line to head the committee because the present chairman, Rep. Graham Barden (D-NC), is retiring from Congress.

There was no comment from Powell but one of Meany's colleagues on the AFL-CIO executive council, A. Phillip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said Powell is no racist and deserves the chairmanship.

Randolph, also a Negro, said Powell's congressional attendance may need improving but his voting record on labor and civil rights is good. Other AFL-CIO chiefs said Meany's criticism was correct but he could have been more discreet.

Randolph clashed openly with Meany at the AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco last September over Randolph's proposal that the federation end racial segregation and white-only membership restrictions in some unions. Meany angrily inquired how Randolph had become a self-appointed guardian over Negroes.

Bride of Week Kills Her Toledo Husband

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Reid, married only a week, admitted today that she fatally stabbed her 30-year-old husband, Aubrey, police reported.

Mrs. Reid, 29, claimed she plunged a hunting knife into her husband's chest after he struck her during an argument early today.

Police held her as a material witness.

Vast Payoffs Hinted in U.S. Road Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hints of far-reaching irregularities today preceded opening of a House investigation of spending and planning on the multibillion-dollar 41,000 - mile interstate highway system.

A House Public Works subcommittee summoned defense and public roads officials for the lead-off phase of the inquiry dealing with inadequacies in defense aspects of the superhighway network.

The hints of irregularities came from Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex), a committee member.

"Facts now being unearthed and soon to be disclosed could make the highly publicized payola irregularities seem like a child's game of marbles by comparison," Wright said.

The road program is expected to cost 40 billion dollars over a period of years.

Wright said that original cost estimates of the federal-state system have skyrocketed from $500,000 a mile to more than a million dollars a mile.

The interstate system of superhighways, of which the federal government bears 90 per cent of the cost and the states 10 per cent, was authorized by Congress in 1956. It will not be completed for another 13 years.

End to Wheat Surpluses Is Sought by Eisenhower

Ohio Liquor Aide Bribe Case Eyed

CLEVELAND (AP)—State Liquor Enforcement Chief Ivan W. Smith, who personally helped close a trap on Michael T. Corsaro, says there may be more to the alleged bribe case than meets the eye.

Corsaro resigned as chief enforcement agent here at Smith's order Saturday. But he denies taking the $50 he was accused of having in his possession. He says he will retract his resignation and fight to get his job back.

Smith disclosed details of the trap and Corsaro's resignation Monday after conferring with State Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

But Smith questioned the ability of the Cleveland tavern operator who baited the trap for Corsaro and hinted that his investigation of the case has only begun.

Smith identified the man who dropped the marked bills on Corsaro's desk as Peter Reid.

"Reid did tell me he was out to get Mike," Smith said. "He told me that if he didn't get him this way he'd get him another way."

Twice Corsaro had "knocked off" Reid's place — once three years ago for selling whisky on a beer and wine permit and then last December for selling liquor on Sunday.

"I have strong reason to believe this was a setup," Smith declared. "If it were not for the fact Corsaro had the money in his pocket, I would have no confidence whatsoever in our informant. Mike has an excellent record with the department."

Corsaro denied he had the money in his pocket. He said it was on his desk, where Reid had left it, when Smith and an aid came into his office Saturday.

Smith said Reid contacted him and told him he had been paying $100 a month for two years to Corsaro through an intermediary.

After Reid had made an appointment Saturday to see Corsaro, Smith gave him $50, noting the serial numbers of the two $20s and one $10. He went with Reid but waited outside the building where Corsaro had his office. Reid came out and said he had put the money on the desk and it was not there when he left, Smith said.

Smith said when he confronted Corsaro, the agent at first denied then admitted he had the money in his pocket. He quoted Corsaro as saying he had pocketed the money only because "it could be embarrassing to him to have the bills on his desk."

Corsaro, after signing his resignation, broke and cried and repeated over and over: "I didn't take it, chief! I didn't take it!" Smith related.

Corsaro, 46, has been in charge of the five-county Cleveland district since June, 1958, and has been with the Liquor Department since 1947.

GOP Is Told It 'Must' Win in Ohio

NILES, Ohio (AP) —"Republicans must carry Ohio to win in 1960," Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the national GOP chairman, told an audience of more than 500 Monday night at the 45th annual Mahoning Valley Republican Dinner in McKinley Memorial Auditorium.

Four of the 90 seats the Republicans aim to wrest from Democrats in the U. S. House of Representatives next fall are in Ohio, Morton said.

One such seat is in the 11th District, where Morton was speaking, and his introduction was made by David Dennison of Warren, who seeks to win back that place in Congress after being defeated in 1958.

"The compelling issue in this year's election is which party has the leaders to maintain peace," Morton said, asserting that "the Republican Party has the edge."

"The Republican foreign policy leaves no room for any miscalculation of America's military might," he said.

In Vice President Richard M. Nixon the party has "a hard-hitting, experienced candidate" heading the ticket, the Kentuckian said.

American living standards which are "higher than ever with more people sharing more fully in the abundance produced by a booming economy" should prove a Republican campaign asset, Morton continued.

He pointed also to "tremendous progress in the whole broad field of human rights" under the Eisenhower Administration.

'Free' Government Service Ends Quickly

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — One free government service has been stopped here.

Postmaster Jim Harding said Monday a faulty vending machine in the post office lobby was returning the purchaser's change in addition to giving the correct amount of postage stamps.

Twining OKs Defense Setup

Joint Chiefs Boss Backs Ike's Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told senators today he is convinced that no nation could attack the United States now or in the future "without receiving unacceptable damage."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff voiced this confidence in the U. S. defense program—and the deterrent authority it carries for any enemy—in testimony to the Senate Space and Preparedness committees.

These groups have heard a parade of high military figures urge multibillion - dollar additions to President Eisenhower's 41-billion-dollar defense budget.

Only Monday, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said the Navy wants six more Polaris missile submarines and would ask nearly a billion dollars for them. But he also said he didn't know whether the Defense Department would back this Navy view, and that he supported the President's budget.

Twining reminded the senators that it is his responsibility to advise the President, the secretary of defense and the National Security Council.

He also said that he believes U. S. intelligence estimates are reliable and that they and resulting plans are revised almost daily.

Twining said that it always is natural for each military commander to "like to have just a little more" than he receives, adding that he respects their views even if he disagrees.

U.S. To Ask Red Scientists To A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will stake its hopes for a nuclear test ban on a new proposal soon to be put to the Soviets.

Under part of the U.S. plan, Soviet scientists would join Western technicians in conducting experimental, smaller-size underground explosions.

This was indicated by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Monday in speaking to a news conference about the 14-month-old Geneva conference on outlawing atomic explosions.

The nuclear powers — America, Britain and the Soviet Union — are stalemated over Moscow's refusal to accept scientific findings which the West says show a need for a stronger detection system than had been thought previously to catch sneak underground explosions.

U.S. officials said the new package may be put on the Geneva conference table this week. It is expected to propose a ban on nuclear blasts which can be spotted comparatively easily by presently known methods — explosions in the atmosphere, in space and under water as well as larger underground shots.

The Soviets said last April they wanted only an over-all ban.

Congress Given Guidelines for New Legislation

President Abandons Previous Call for Low Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Congress to enact a new program to end wheat surpluses, but offered the legislators leeway in working out the measure.

In a special message, he set three guides for meeting the problem, but said that if Congress has an alternative to the plan he has advanced in the past, he would go along with it if it were constructive.

This was a break with the administration's past position. It has insisted that the wheat surplus problem be met by lowering price supports and eliminating controls. This approach is designed to discourage high-cost producers and to encourage greater use of the grain as a livestock feed.

This change in tone came after Republican leaders in Congress—presumably including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the potential Republican presidential nominee—had urged that the administration back up from its insistence upon lower supports.

The three guidelines for meeting the wheat situation—which the President described as particularly acute—include:

1. That price-support levels be realistically related to whatever policy Congress chooses in respect to production control. Eisenhower said it must be recognized that the higher the support the more the farmer must be regimented.

2. That price support levels not be so high as to stimulate still more excessive production, reduce domestic markets, and increase the subsidies required to hold world markets.

3. That direct subsidy programs for crops in surplus be avoided; likewise that the chosen programs not invite harmful counter measures by friends or badly hurt other farmers in seeking to aid one group.

"Within these three guidelines, I am constantly ready to approve any one or a combination of any constructive proposals," Eisenhower said. "I will approve legislation which will eliminate production controls, or make them really effective, or allow the farmers themselves to choose between realistic alternatives.

Ike Plans Quick Trip To Cape Canaveral

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will fly to Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday for an inspection of the missile launching base there.

Announcing this today, the White House said Eisenhower plans to spend three or four hours at the big base, then return immediately to Washington by jet airliner.

In response to questions, press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will not witness any missile firings during his brief stay.

Herter Expecting New Berlin Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter apparently is less optimistic than he was a few months ago about avoiding a new showdown with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

But he doubts that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will confront the Western powers with an ultimatum in this dispute in the summit conference in Paris in May.

He foresaw the need for further negotiations and perhaps a second summit conference to settle the dispute.

Herter's views of the critical Berlin dispute came out Monday in a news conference at which he also:

1. Discussed the possibility that Khrushchev may be building a tougher, more aggressive foreign policy on the Soviet Union's growing power in nuclear missiles.

2. Conceded that Soviet achievements in space have made a greater impact on world opinion than those of the United States, increasing Soviet prestige as a scientific and military power.

Herter was reminded at his news conference that last November he had said that the Soviets had come a very long way on the Berlin issue since November 1958. At that time they threatened to try to squeeze the Western powers out of the city unless West Berlin was made a free city in six months.

He was asked whether he felt that recent statements by Khrushchev on the Berlin issue meant that his position had become tougher since his September talks with President Eisenhower at Camp David.

"Yes," Herter replied, "I think that is the only way one can interpret the statements that have been made since that time."

Herter cited specifically a Soviet bloc declaration last week that unless the Western powers agreed to a German peace treaty the Communist countries would make a separate peace treaty with East Germany, covering the Berlin problem. Khrushchev had made similar statements recently.

However, Herter said that as far as the United States knows Khrushchev is still standing by the letter of his agreement at Camp David not to impose a deadline on negotations with the West over Berlin.

Second Ohio Education Parley Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another statehouse conference on education is in the works.

The State Board of Education, at the request of State School Supt. E. E. Holt, approved the idea Monday.

The conference will be similar to one held in 1958.

In the 1958 meeting, citizen delegates and professional educators studied needs and problems of education in Ohio. Several of their recommendations resulted in legislation passed by the General Assembly.

Holt recommended that the Ohio School Boards Assn. initiate a series of conferences on education, culminating in the statewide conference. Association trustees agreed Saturday to sponsor such a program.

The state school board also recommended that the problem of discontinuing the cadet teachers program be given further study. The Ohio Education Assn. wants the program stopped next Jan. 1.

The program permits teachers to begin working after two years of college training. The teachers continue their study for certificates in college summer schools. The program was started in 1946 because of a teacher shortage.

Khrush Repeats Berlin Demand

Italian Envoy Gets New Soviet Needle

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev brushed aside protocol at an Italian diplomatic reception Monday night to make another public demand for a peace treaty with Germany and an end to the occupation of West Berlin.

Visiting Italian leaders, drawn into an impromptu debate with the unpredictable Khrushchev, reiterated the Western position that Soviet terms are unacceptable.

Khrushchev launched into his views on the German question following a toast at the crowded reception, given for himself and Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov by visiting Italian President Giovanni Gronchi.

"If we don't resolve these (German) problems now," the Premier warned, "sooner or later someone will try to change the existing situation by force."

"A situation which has been changed by war generally can only be changed by another war," he said. "Czechoslovakia and Poland will not have their frontiers changed. They are our allies. Prayers are not enough. We must face problems with realism. (West German Chancellor Konrad) Adenauer does not agree, but who asked Adenauer for his opinion."

Italian foreign minister Guiseppe Pella interrupted: "I must say that we do not share your point of view on Berlin and Germany."

Khrushchev: "Life will teach you.. Life is such a good teacher that even the slowest pupils learn their lessons. I trust in man's mind. You say you are for peace. Then, why don't you want a treaty with Germany?"

Pella: "I think we have nothing to add to the picture drawn by President Gronchi this morning."

Khrushchev and Gronchi apparently had covered the same ground at the Kremlin earlier in the day.

Steel Union Shuns New Timken Offer

CANTON, Ohio (AP) —The United Steelworkers Union has rejected a new contract proposal from the Timken Roller Bearing Co. The company said the plan would increase wage and other benefits an average of 40 cents an hour for 9,500 production and maintenance workers.

The union told company representatives at a meeting Monday afternoon the proposal was unacceptable because it did not include provisions for an agency shop. This type shop requires all employes to pay monthly dues to the union regardless of whether they are union members.

Timken rejected demands for an agency shop, stating that neither compulsory union membership nor compulsory payment of dues to the union is fair or proper because it takes from the employe the right to make a free and voluntary choice.

Soviets Suggest Outer Space Invaders Destroyed Sodom

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist suggested today Sodom and Gomorrah might have been destroyed by a nuclear explosion set off by invaders from outer space.

M. Agrest, identified as a master of physicomathematical sciences, advanced the theory in the Literary Gazette rather than a scientific journal.

Agrest declared that the Biblical account of the destruction of the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah takes on a new meaning when read in the light of modern science.

"In modern language," he said, "this legend says that the people were advised to leave the area of the future explosion, not to linger in the open and not to watch the blast. Those of the fugitives who looked back lost their sight and perished."

According to the Bible, Lot and his family were warned to get out of town by two divine messengers. As a hail of fire and brimstone devastated Sodom and Gomorrah, the Bible relates, Lot's wife looked back and was turned into a pillar of salt.

Agrest said the fire and brimstone really might have been a nuclear fuel dump blown up deliberately by the outer space people.

He cited the glassy bodies known as tektites found on various parts of the earth's surface.

Existence of these small objects has never been satisfactorily explained by science. Agrest said they may have been formed by the impact of probe rockets sent to the earth before the raiders risked a landing.

Randolph, also a Negro, said Powell's congressional attendance may need improving but his voting record on labor and civil rights is good. Other AFL-CIO chiefs said Meany's criticism was correct but he could have been more discreet.

Randolph clashed openly with Meany at the AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco last September over Randolph's proposal that the federation end racial segregation and white-only membership restrictions in some unions. Meany angrily inquired how Randolph had become a self-appointed guardian over Negroes.

Bride of Week Kills Her Toledo Husband

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Reid, married only a week, admitted today that she fatally stabbed her 30-year-old husband, Aubrey, police reported.

Mrs. Reid, 29, claimed she plunged a hunting knife into her husband's chest after he struck her during an argument early today.

Police held her as a material witness.

End to Wheat Surpluses Is Sought by Eisenhower

Ohio Liquor Aide Bribe Case Eyed

CLEVELAND (AP)—State Liquor Enforcement Chief Ivan W. Smith, who personally helped close a trap on Michael T. Corsaro, says there may be more to the alleged bribe case than meets the eye.

Corsaro resigned as chief enforcement agent here at Smith's order Saturday. But he denies taking the $50 he was accused of having in his possession. He says he will retract his resignation and fight to get his job back.

Smith disclosed details of the trap and Corsaro's resignation Monday after conferring with State Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

But Smith questioned the ability of the Cleveland tavern operator who baited the trap for Corsaro and hinted that his investigation of the case has only begun.

Smith identified the man who dropped the marked bills on Corsaro's desk as Peter Reid.

"Reid did tell me he was out to get Mike," Smith said. "He told me that if he didn't get him this way he'd get him another way."

Twice Corsaro had "knocked off" Reid's place — once three years ago for selling whisky on a beer and wine permit and then last December for selling liquor on Sunday.

"I have strong reason to believe this was a setup," Smith declared. "If it were not for the fact Corsaro had the money in his pocket, I would have no confidence whatsoever in our informant. Mike has an excellent record with the department."

Corsaro denied he had the money in his pocket. He said it was on his desk, where Reid had left it, when Smith and an aid came into his office Saturday.

Smith said Reid contacted him and told him he had been paying $100 a month for two years to Corsaro through an intermediary.

After Reid had made an appointment Saturday to see Corsaro, Smith gave him $50, noting the serial numbers of the two $20s and one $10. He went with Reid but waited outside the building where Corsaro had his office. Reid came out and said he had put the money on the desk and it was not there when he left, Smith said.

Smith said when he confronted Corsaro, the agent at first denied then admitted he had the money in his pocket. He quoted Corsaro as saying he had pocketed the money only because "it could be embarrassing to him to have the bills on his desk."

Corsaro, after signing his resignation, broke and cried and repeated over and over: "I didn't take it, chief! I didn't take it!" Smith related.

Corsaro, 46, has been in charge of the five-county Cleveland district since June, 1958, and has been with the Liquor Department since 1947.

GOP Is Told It 'Must' Win in Ohio

NILES, Ohio (AP) —"Republicans must carry Ohio to win in 1960," Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the national GOP chairman, told an audience of more than 500 Monday night at the 45th annual Mahoning Valley Republican Dinner in McKinley Memorial Auditorium.

Four of the 90 seats the Republicans aim to wrest from Democrats in the U. S. House of Representatives next fall are in Ohio, Morton said.

One such seat is in the 11th District, where Morton was speaking, and his introduction was made by David Dennison of Warren, who seeks to win back that place in Congress after being defeated in 1958.

"The compelling issue in this year's election is which party has the leaders to maintain peace," Morton said, asserting that "the Republican Party has the edge."

"The Republican foreign policy leaves no room for any miscalculation of America's military might," he said.

In Vice President Richard M. Nixon the party has "a hard-hitting, experienced candidate" heading the ticket, the Kentuckian said.

American living standards which are "higher than ever with more people sharing more fully in the abundance produced by a booming economy" should prove a Republican campaign asset, Morton continued.

He pointed also to "tremendous progress in the whole broad field of human rights" under the Eisenhower Administration.

'Free' Government Service Ends Quickly

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — One free government service has been stopped here.

Postmaster Jim Harding said Monday a faulty vending machine in the post office lobby was returning the purchaser's change in addition to giving the correct amount of postage stamps.

Vast Payoffs Hinted in U.S. Road Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hints of far-reaching irregularities today preceded opening of a House investigation of spending and planning on the multibillion-dollar 41,000 - mile interstate highway system.

A House Public Works subcommittee summoned defense and public roads officials for the lead-off phase of the inquiry dealing with inadequacies in defense aspects of the superhighway network.

The hints of irregularities came from Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex), a committee member.

"Facts now being unearthed and soon to be disclosed could make the highly publicized payola irregularities seem like a child's game of marbles by comparison," Wright said.

The road program is expected to cost 40 billion dollars over a period of years.

Wright said that original cost estimates of the federal-state system have skyrocketed from $500,000 a mile to more than a million dollars a mile.

The interstate system of superhighways, of which the federal government bears 90 per cent of the cost and the states 10 per cent, was authorized by Congress in 1956. It will not be completed for another 13 years.

U.S. To Ask Red Scientists To A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will stake its hopes for a nuclear test ban on a new proposal soon to be put to the Soviets.

Under part of the U.S. plan, Soviet scientists would join Western technicians in conducting experimental, smaller-size underground explosions.

This was indicated by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Monday in speaking to a news conference about the 14-month-old Geneva conference on outlawing atomic explosions.

The nuclear powers — America, Britain and the Soviet Union — are stalemated over Moscow's refusal to accept scientific findings which the West says show a need for a stronger detection system than had been thought previously to catch sneak underground explosions.

U.S. officials said the new package may be put on the Geneva conference table this week. It is expected to propose a ban on nuclear blasts which can be spotted comparatively easily by presently known methods — explosions in the atmosphere, in space and under water as well as larger underground shots.

The Soviets said last April they wanted only an over-all ban.

Twining OKs Defense Setup

Joint Chiefs Boss Backs Ike's Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told senators today he is convinced that no nation could attack the United States now or in the future "without receiving unacceptable damage."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff voiced this confidence in the U. S. defense program—and the deterrent authority it carries for any enemy—in testimony to the Senate Space and Preparedness committees.

These groups have heard a parade of high military figures urge multibillion - dollar additions to President Eisenhower's 41-billion-dollar defense budget.

Only Monday, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said the Navy wants six more Polaris missile submarines and would ask nearly a billion dollars for them. But he also said he didn't know whether the Defense Department would back this Navy view, and that he supported the President's budget.

Twining reminded the senators that it is his responsibility to advise the President, the secretary of defense and the National Security Council.

He also said that he believes U. S. intelligence estimates are reliable and that they and resulting plans are revised almost daily.

Twining said that it always is natural for each military commander to "like to have just a little more" than he receives, adding that he respects their views even if he disagrees.

Congress Given Guidelines for New Legislation

President Abandons Previous Call for Low Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Congress to enact a new program to end wheat surpluses, but offered the legislators leeway in working out the measure.

In a special message, he set three guides for meeting the problem, but said that if Congress has an alternative to the plan he has advanced in the past, he would go along with it if it were constructive.

This was a break with the administration's past position. It has insisted that the wheat surplus problem be met by lowering price supports and eliminating controls. This approach is designed to discourage high-cost producers and to encourage greater use of the grain as a livestock feed.

This change in tone came after Republican leaders in Congress—presumably including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the potential Republican presidential nominee—had urged that the administration back up from its insistence upon lower supports.

The three guidelines for meeting the wheat situation—which the President described as particularly acute—include:

1. That price-support levels be realistically related to whatever policy Congress chooses in respect to production control. Eisenhower said it must be recognized that the higher the support the more the farmer must be regimented.

2. That price support levels not be so high as to stimulate still more excessive production, reduce domestic markets, and increase the subsidies required to hold world markets.

3. That direct subsidy programs for crops in surplus be avoided; likewise that the chosen programs not invite harmful counter measures by friends or badly hurt other farmers in seeking to aid one group.

"Within these three guidelines, I am constantly ready to approve any one or a combination of any constructive proposals," Eisenhower said. "I will approve legistion which will eliminate production controls, or make them really effective, or allow the farmers themselves to choose between realistic alternatives.

Ike Plans Quick Trip To Cape Canaveral

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will fly to Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday for an inspection of the missile launching base there.

Announcing this today, the White House said Eisenhower plans to spend three or four hours at the big base, then return immediately to Washington by jet airliner.

In response to questions, press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will not witness any missile firings during his brief stay.

Herter Expecting New Berlin Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter apparently is less optimistic than he was a few months ago about avoiding a new showdown with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

But he doubts that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will confront the Western powers with an ultimatum in this dispute in the summit conference in Paris in May.

He foresaw the need for further negotiations and perhaps a second summit conference to settle the dispute.

Herter's views of the critical Berlin dispute came out Monday in a news conference at which he also:

1. Discussed the possibility that Khrushchev may be building a tougher, more aggressive foreign policy on the Soviet Union's growing power in nuclear missiles.

2. Conceded that Soviet achievements in space have made a greater impact on world opinion than those of the United States, increasing Soviet prestige as a scientific and military power.

Herter was reminded at his news conference that last November he had said that the Soviets had come a very long way on the Berlin issue since November 1958. At that time they threatened to try to squeeze the Western powers out of the city unless West Berlin was made a free city in six months.

He was asked whether he felt that recent statements by Khrushchev on the Berlin issue meant that his position had become tougher since his September talks with President Eisenhower at Camp David.

"Yes," Herter replied, "I think that is the only way one can interpret the statements that have been made since that time."

Herter cited specifically a Soviet bloc declaration last week that unless the Western powers agreed to a German peace treaty the Communist countries would make a separate peace treaty with East Germany, covering the Berlin problem. Khrushchev had made similar statements recently.

However, Herter said that as far as the United States knows Khrushchev is still standing by the letter of his agreement at Camp David not to impose a deadline on negotations with the West over Berlin.

Second Ohio Education Parley Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another statehouse conference on education is in the works.

The State Board of Education, at the request of State School Supt. E. E. Holt, approved the idea Monday.

The conference will be similar to one held in 1958.

In the 1958 meeting, citizen delegates and professional educators studied needs and problems of education in Ohio. Several of their recommendations resulted in legislation passed by the General Assembly.

Holt recommended that the Ohio School Boards Assn. initiate a series of conferences on education, culminating in the statewide conference. Association trustees agreed Saturday to sponsor such a program.

The state school board also recommended that the problem of discontinuing the cadet teachers program be given further study. The Ohio Education Assn. wants the program stopped next Jan. 1.

The program permits teachers to begin working after two years of college training. The teachers continue their study for certificates in college summer schools. The program was started in 1946 because of a teacher shortage.

Khrush Repeats Berlin Demand

Italian Envoy Gets New Soviet Needle

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev brushed aside protocol at an Italian diplomatic reception Monday night to make another public demand for a peace treaty with Germany and an end to the occupation of West Berlin.

Visiting Italian leaders, drawn into an impromptu debate with the unpredictable Khrushchev, reiterated the Western position that Soviet terms are unacceptable.

Khrushchev launched into his views on the German question following a toast at the crowded reception, given for himself and Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov by visiting Italian President Giovanni Gronchi.

"If we don't resolve these (German) problems now," the Premier warned, "sooner or later someone will try to change the existing situation by force."

"A situation which has been changed by war generally can only be changed by another war," he said. "Czechoslovakia and Poland will not have their frontiers changed. They are our allies. Prayers are not enough. We must face problems with realism. (West German Chancellor Konrad) Adenauer does not agree, but who asked Adenauer for his opinion."

Italian foreign minister Guiseppe Pella interrupted: "I must say that we do not share your point of view on Berlin and Germany."

Khrushchev: "Life will teach you., Life is such a good teacher that even the slowest pupils learn their lessons. I trust in man's mind. You say you are for peace. Then, why don't you want a treaty with Germany?"

Pella: "I think we have nothing to add to the picture drawn by President Gronchi this morning."

Khrushchev and Gronchi apparently had covered the same ground at the Kremlin earlier in the day.

Steel Union Shuns New Timken Offer

CANTON, Ohio (AP) —The United Steelworkers Union has rejected a new contract proposal from the Timken Roller Bearing Co. The company said the plan would increase wage and other benefits an average of 40 cents an hour for 9,500 production and maintenance workers.

The union told company representatives at a meeting Monday afternoon the proposal was unacceptable because it did not include provisions for an agency shop. This type shop requires all employes to pay monthly dues to the union regardless of whether they are union members.

Timken rejected demands for an agency shop, stating that neither compulsory union membership nor compulsory payment of dues to the union is fair or proper because it takes from the employe the right to make a free and voluntary choice.

Soviets Suggest Outer Space Invaders Destroyed Sodom

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist suggested today Sodom and Gomorrah might have been destroyed by a nuclear explosion set off by invaders from outer space.

M. Agrest, identified as a master of physicomathematical sciences, advanced the theory in the Literary Gazette rather than a scientific journal.

Agrest declared that the Biblical account of the destruction of the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah takes on a new meaning when read in the light of modern science.

"In modern language," he said, "this legend says that the people were advised to leave the area of the future explosion, not to linger in the open and not to watch the blast. Those of the fugitives who looked back lost their sight and perished."

According to the Bible, Lot and his family were warned to get out of town by two divine messengers. As a hail of fire and brimstone devastated Sodom and Gomorrah, the Bible relates, Lot's wife looked back and was turned into a pillar of salt.

Agrest said the fire and brimstone really might have been a nuclear fuel dump blown up deliberately by the outer space people.

He cited the glassy bodies known as tektites found on various parts of the earth's surface.

Existence of these small objects has never been satisfactorily explained by science. Agrest said they may have been formed by the impact of probe rockets sent to the earth before the raiders risked a landing.

OSP yesterday afternoon.

Charles Foster, Washington C. H. Police Captain, testified next. He said he spotted Hurles, Boggs and Cartwright on the afternoon of the robbery in Washington C. H.

After stopping them for investigation, he later left them go because the license plates of their car didn't match those used in the robbery. Boggs and Hurles admitted later they had switched the plates.

Foster said he became suspicious after letting the trio go and sent out an order to pick the three up. This later led to the arrest of Boggs and Hurles.

* * *

MRS. MARY HURLES, Washington C. H., wife of Paul Hurles, testified that all three men were at her place the morning of the robbery. She said they left and returned later, stating they had held up Mom and Pop's Place.

Mrs. Hurles said she and her husband drove Cartwright and Mrs. Kilgore toward Leesburg and dropped them off, never to see Cartwright again until yesterday in court.

Don Thompson, Fayette County deputy sheriff, stated he made the arrest on Boggs and Hurles in Washington C. H. He also said that Kadel stated neither Boggs or Hurles held the revolver.

Chester Clay, Washington C.H., identified the stolen license plates, 531 KW, as belonging to him. He said he obtains the same license number each year and that on Sept. 5, 1958, a 1956 plate was missing from the garage wall where he tacks them up after they expire.

Sheriff Radcliff testified to receiving the holdup call and taking Kadel to Washington C. H. to identify Boggs and Hurles. He also related his experiences in picking up Cartwright in Flagstaff and returning him here.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff related his experiences in investigating the robbery.

* * *

DEPUTY Charles Felkey testified of his stake-out at Cartwright's home in Greenfield from 11:30 p.m. on Sept. 5, 1958 to 7:30 a. m. Sept. 6, 1958.

Charles Clay, Greenfield patrolman, testified to being along on the stakeout with Felkey. He also said he entered Cartwright's apartment and discovered a note left by the accused to his landlady, Mrs. Dessie Marshall.

It said he was leaving and probably wouldn't be back. He told her to take what personal belongings were left there and dispose of them.

Mrs. Marshall, Greenfield, testified that she saw Cartwright leave her palce on the morning of Sept. 4, 1958 with Mrs. Kilgore, saying they were going to Pennsylvania to visit his mother. Because of bad eyesight, Mrs. Marshall left the stand, walked over to the defense table and identified Cartwright.

The state rested at this point and the defense moved for a dismissal because the state failed to prove its case. Presiding Judge William Ammer denied the request.

State Patrolman W. M. Hogue was the first defense witness. He testified of investigating an automobile accident involving Cartwright on Sept. 1, 1958.

* * *

A DEPOSITION was read from Mrs. Flora McDonald, a Flagstaff hotel operator. She was unable to state the year Cartwright and Mrs. Kilgore were at her hotel.

She said she never marked the year on the registration cards. According to her deposition, she said she kept the cards in a bundle and that Mrs. Kilgore went through the cards and took one card from it.

Mrs. McDonald's deposition had conflicting statements. She said Mrs. Kilgore checked the cards on Nov. 29, 1959, while Sheriff Radcliff testified that Mrs. Kilgore presented the registration card at extradition hearings in Flagstaff on Oct. 2, 1959 at which time Cartwright was extradited to Ohio.

Mrs. Kilgore was the star witness for the defense. She said she was married and the mother of nine children, which are wards of Highland County. She said she had tried to obtain a divorce from her husband in Fayette County, but was denied.

She said she had met Cartwright in May, 1958. She said soon after, they began living together as man and wife. Mrs. Kilgore maintained throughout that she and Cartwright had left for Arizona immediately after his auto accident on Sept. 1, 1958 and were in Flagstaff on the day of the robbery.

Mrs. Kilgore said she and Cartwright had hitchhiked through Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, sleeping in cars along the way. Neither had luggage, she said.

* * *

SHE SAID she returned to her home in Jeffersonville in early December, 1958 and had been there since January 1. The trial recessed at 4:24 p. m. yesterday and reconvened at 9:05 a. m. today.

Mrs. Kilgore returned to the stand and reiterated she and Cartwright left Greenfield on Aug. 31, 1958, not on Sept. 4, 1958 as stated by Mrs. Marshall.

The state reopened its case to return Kadel to the stand. Closing arguments were given by Prosecutor Davis and defense attorneys Lemuel B. Weldon, 210 S. Court St., and David Kraft, Ashville.

Members of the petit jury were: Orlan Hines, Ashville, foreman; Edgar Harral, Route 1; Tom Oyer, Route 1, New Holland; Donald Hildebrand, Route 1;

Vera M. Gregg, Ashville; Mabel Stoer, Route 1, Orient; Lorraine Vandemark, 230 Sunset Drive; Harry A. Keller, Williamsport; Ida M. Becker, Route 2, Orient;

Guy O. Sark, Ashville J. A. Walker, Route 1, Orient, and Margaret Barnes, Route 1, Williamsport. Maxine Routt, Route 1, Kingston, served as the alternate juror.

Recipe for Happy Marriage: Go to Sports-Car Rallies

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Woman's Editor

Here's a 1960 revised recipe for a happy marriage: Go sports-car rallying together.

"Any man driver who gets a wife who can navigate will never let her go," says pretty Eleanor Halmi, of Harrison, N.Y. who fell in love with a sports car addict got a slide rule for an engagement present, and has been rallying ever since.

Now the Halmis have four children and four sports cars, counting the quarter-midget racer driven by the two oldest offspring, Kevin, 8, and Kim, 5. The other two, Robby, 3, and Billy, 10 months, are campaigning for motorized tricycles. The Halmi romance has strictly modern overtones.

"Bob picked me up in his racy two-seater one sunny Sunday afternoon in Forest Hills while I was waiting for a bus," says Eleanor dreamily. "A few days later he took me to a rally and found out I could read the tachometer and work a slide rule. From then on it was duck soup."

Bob is Robert Halmi, Hungarian photographer who has competed in 15 international sports car rallies, plus countless regional ones. When he drives, his pretty wife navigates. And that's a man-size job, says Eleanor.

"You never see the road, or have time to get scared. All you can do is keep figuring out r.p.m. and m.p.h. and checking the course, so your hero doesn't get sidetracked," she says. "There's no chance to look at the scenery. You just have to keep watching the instruments and yelling at your hero. It's great fun, really."

The Halmis are out rallying somewhere almost every weekend spring, summer, and fall. In between times they take trips abroad, for international rallies.

"It's the only sport a man and wife can do together, without having to compete against each other," says Eleanor. "It's a wonderful way to get away alone together for a weekend. You have all the thrills of the rally, good fun with the other drivers in the evenings, and then a long, lovely drive back home on Sunday afternoon. You're out in the fresh air — never mind the carbon monoxide fumes — you're keyed up and trying to win, and best of all, you're together."

Stock Mart Shows Mild Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market made a mild and unconvincing recovery today with trading light early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

The list was higher from the start in a continuation of the rebound from sharp losses which began Monday afternoon. After about an hour of fairly broad advance, however, the upward drive weakened and a number of stocks replaced gains with losses.

Steels canceled early gains and were mostly lower. Auto stocks were mixed at best.

Rails, airlines, tobaccos, chemicals and mail order-retails kept a generally higher tone.

Magma Copper, which reached a 1959-60 low Monday, rebounded about 2 points then shaved the gain. Aldens Inc. met demand rose more than 2.

General Time and Bell & Howell rose more than a point apiece.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and General Motors were down about a point each. Jones & Laughlin and American Motors were up slightly.

Cartwrigh

OSP yesterday afternoon.

Charles Foster, Washington C. H. Police Captain, testified next. He said he spotted Hurles, Boggs and Cartwright on the afternoon of the robbery in Washington C. H.

After stopping them for investigation, he later left them go because the license plates of their car didn't match those used in the robbery. Boggs and Hurles admitted later they had switched the plates.

Foster said he became suspicious after letting the trio go and sent out an order to pick the three up. This later led to the arrest of Boggs and Hurles.

* * *

MRS. MARY HURLES, Washington C. H., wife of Paul Hurles, testified that all three men were at her place the morning of the robbery. She said they left and returned later, stating they had held up Mom and Pop's Place.

Mrs. Hurles said she and her husband drove Cartwright and Mrs. Kilgore toward Leesburg and dropped them off, never to see Cartwright again until yesterday in court.

Don Thompson, Fayette County deputy sheriff, stated he made the arrest on Boggs and Hurles in Washington C. H. He also said that Kadel stated neither Boggs or Hurles held the revolver.

Chester Clay, Washington C.H., identified the stolen license plates, 531 KW, as belonging to him. He said he obtains the same license number each year and that on Sept. 5, 1958, a 1956 plate was missing from the garage wall where he tacks them up after they expire.

Sheriff Radcliff testified to receiving the holdup call and taking Kadel to Washington C. H. to identify Boggs and Hurles. He also related his experiences in picking up Cartwright in Flagstaff and returning him here.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff related his experiences in investigating the robbery.

* * *

DEPUTY Charles Felkey testified of his stake-out at Cartwright's home in Greenfield from 11:30 p.m. on Sept. 5, 1958 to 7:30 a. m. Sept. 6, 1958.

Charles Clay, Greenfield patrolman, testified to being along on the stakeout with Felkey. He also said he entered Cartwright's apartment and discovered a note left by the accused to his landlady, Mrs. Dessie Marshall.

It said he was leaving and probably wouldn't be back. He told her to take what personal belongings were left there and dispose of them.

Mrs. Marshall, Greenfield, testified that she saw Cartwright leave her palce on the morning of Sept. 4, 1958 with Mrs. Kilgore, saying they were going to Pennsylvania to visit his mother. Because of bad eyesight, Mrs. Marshall left the stand, walked over to the defense table and identified Cartwright.

The state rested at this point and the defense moved for a dismissal because the state failed to prove its case. Presiding Judge William Ammer denied the request.

State Patrolman W. M. Hogue was the first defense witness. He testified of investigating an automobile accident involving Cartwright on Sept. 1, 1958.

* * *

A DEPOSITION was read from Mrs. Flora McDonald, a Flagstaff hotel operator. She was unable to state the year Cartwright and Mrs. Kilgore were at her hotel.

She said she never marked the year on the registration cards. According to her deposition, she said she kept the cards in a bundle and that Mrs. Kilgore went through the cards and took one card from it.

Mrs. McDonald's deposition had conflicting statements. She said Mrs. Kilgore checked the cards on Nov. 29, 1959, while Sheriff Radcliff testified that Mrs. Kilgore presented the registration card at extradition hearings in Flagstaff on Oct. 2, 1959 at which time Cartwright was extradited to Ohio.

Mrs. Kilgore was the star witness for the defense. She said she was married and the mother of nine children, which are wards of Highland County. She said she had tried to obtain a divorce from her husband in Fayette County, but was denied.

She said she had met Cartwright in May, 1958. She said soon after, they began living together as man and wife. Mrs. Kilgore maintained throughout that she and Cartwright had left for Arizona immediately after his auto accident on Sept. 1, 1958 and were in Flagstaff on the day of the robbery.

Mrs. Kilgore said she and Cartwright had hitchhiked through Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, sleeping in cars along the way. Neither had luggage, she said.

* * *

SHE SAID she returned to her home in Jeffersonville in early December, 1958 and had been there since January 1. The trial recessed at 4:24 p. m. yesterday and reconvened at 9:05 a. m. today.

Mrs. Kilgore returned to the stand and reiterated she and Cartwright left Greenfield on Aug. 31, 1958, not on Sept. 4, 1958 as stated by Mrs. Marshall.

The state reopened its case to return Kadel to the stand. Closing arguments were given by Prosecutor Davis and defense attorneys Lemuel B. Weldon, 210 S. Court St., and David Kraft, Ashville.

Members of the petit jury were: Orlan Hines, Ashville, foreman; Edgar Harral, Route 1; Tom Oyer, Route 1, New Holland; Donald Hildebrand, Route 1;

Vera M. Gregg, Ashville; Mabel Stoer, Route 1, Orient; Lorraine Vandemark, 230 Sunset Drive; Harry A. Keller, Williamsport; Ida M. Becker, Route 2, Orient;

Guy O. Sark, Ashville J. A. Walker, Route 1, Orient, and Margaret Barnes, Route 1, Williamsport. Maxine Routt, Route 1, Kingston, served as the alternate juror.

FIGHTING EVERY WAVE ALONE—Heading for San Francisco, a 40-foot teakwood junk skippered alone by British-born Brian Platt, 29, battles heavy seas off the coast of California. When this photo was made Platt had spent seven nearly sleepless days and nights "fighting every wave." He hopes to sell the junk in San Francisco and get work in Canada.

Recipe for Happy Marriage: Go to Sports-Car Rallies

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Woman's Editor

Here's a 1960 revised recipe for a happy marriage: Go sports-car rallying together.

"Any man driver who gets a wife who can navigate will never let her go," says pretty Eleanor Halmi, of Harrison, N.Y. who fell in love with a sports car addict got a slide rule for an engagement present, and has been rallying ever since.

Now the Halmis have four children and four sports cars, counting the quarter-midget racer driven by the two oldest offspring, Kevin, 8, and Kim, 5. The other two, Robby, 3, and Billy, 10 months, are campaigning for motorized tricycles. The Halmi romance has strictly modern overtones.

"Bob picked me up in his racy two-seater one sunny Sunday afternoon in Forest Hills while I was waiting for a bus," says Eleanor dreamily. "A few days later he took me to a rally and found out I could read the tachometer and work a slide rule. From then on it was duck soup."

Bob is Robert Halmi, Hungarian photographer who has competed in 15 international sports car rallies, plus countless regional ones. When he drives, his pretty wife navigates. And that's a man-size job, says Eleanor.

"You never see the road, or have time to get scared. All you can do is keep figuring out r.p.m. and m.p.h. and checking the course, so your hero doesn't get sidetracked," she says. "There's no chance to look at the scenery. You just have to keep watching the instruments and yelling at your hero. It's great fun, really."

The Halmis are out rallying somewhere almost every weekend spring, summer, and fall. In between times they take trips abroad, for international rallies.

"It's the only sport a man and wife can do together, without having to compete against each other," says Eleanor. "It's a wonderful way to get away alone together for a weekend. You have all the thrills of the rally, good fun with the other drivers in the evenings, and then a long, lovely drive back home on Sunday afternoon. You're out in the fresh air — never mind the carbon monoxide fumes — you're keyed up and trying to win, and best of all, you're together."

Pickaway Grange

LOGAN ELM

Logan Elm Grange met in regular session with Worthy Master Lawrence McKenzie in charge.

The Grange voted to contribute to appeals for aid from Millfork Grange in Coshoctin County, Booster Grange in Muskingum County, and Union Grange in Tuscarawas County.

The Grange also voted to contribute to the Pickaway County March of Dimes Fund.

Pomona Grange was to meet at Pickaway Twp. School last Saturday. Madison County conferred the Fifth Defree in the afternoon.

The next regular meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. today.

The Grangers played euchre at the close of the meeting.

Stock Mart Shows Mild Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market made a mild and unconvincing recovery today with trading light early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

The list was higher from the start in a continuation of the rebound from sharp losses which began Monday afternoon. After about an hour of fairly broad advance, however, the upward drive weakened and a number of stocks replaced gains with losses.

Steels canceled early gains and were mostly lower. Auto stocks were mixed at best.

Rails, airlines, tobaccos, chemicals and mail order-retails kept a generally higher tone.

Magma Copper, which reached a 1959-60 low Monday, rebounded about 2 points then shaved the gain. Aldens Inc. met demand rose more than 2.

General Time and Bell & Howell rose more than a point apiece.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and General Motors were down about a point each. Jones & Laughlin and American Motors were up slightly.

Lincoln Immortal Now, But Pickaway Newsmen Scoffed at Him in the '60s

By MISS BETTY MCCOY
Pickaway Plains Chapter, DAR

Five score years ago our forefathers residing in Pickaway County stepped to the polls to record their votes in a presidential election.

They had a choice of five candidates: John Bell of Tennessee, the Constitutional Union party; John C. Breckenridge, pro-southern Democrat and Vice-President of the United States; Stephen Douglas, nominee of the regular Democratic party — and Abraham Lincoln, Republican.

Lincoln was to become immortal: his words were to echo through generations of freedom-loving peoples and his life become the object of much scholarly research. The local electorate, however, from its place in 1860 was unable to forsee the future and was unimpressed with his qualifications for that important office.

Since the county was strongly Democratic, results followed general expectation. Douglas received 2425 votes; Lincoln 2002; Bell 211; Breckenridge 59. The first three wards in Circleville went to Douglas as well as the following townships; Muhlenberg, Jackson, Saltcreek, Deercreek, Wayne, Walnut, Circleville, Washington, Darby, Scioto and Madison.

Lincoln gained majorities in Perry, Monroe, Harrison, Pickaway and snatched the Circleville fourth ward by one vote. He won the state and the presidency.

* * *

JOHN W. Kees, fiery editor of the Democratic weekly, The Circleville Watchman, (published in the second story of Jenkins Block) "pointed with pride" to the county returns but "viewed with alarm" the national portent. "It is to us the most lamentable fact that we have ever been called to record, because it is a purely sectional triumph, the result of — bitter, hostile, and jealous feeling of one section of the country against the other.

"It is almost sufficient to shake the confidence of sober and sensible men in the capacity of — the people for self-government. Indeed, if this country is not all going to the Devil, and that very fast, we are of the opinion that the old gentleman has removed his reputed residence and established his domain in the northern section of the Rebublic."

During the course of the Civil War, names of the two newspapers in the city changed several times. The Circleville Herald, (published upstairs in Peck's New Block), became the Circleville Union and The Watchman was renamed The Circleville Democrat .

Despite the outward modifications editorials remained attached to a policy of fulminating freely against the barbarisms of the great convulsion and feuding with each other over points of view. Even though John E. Ray, editor of The Herald, had once labeled Lincoln an imbecile before his nomination, his paper supported administration measures while adroitly inquiring into the loyalty of the editor of the opposition press.

The latter inveighed against the demogoguery of Lincoln and printed statements from The Herald or Union with pithy domments on the side. The Emancipation Proclamation, arrest of Vallandingham and other war acts were roundly denounced and primly defended according to political affiliation.

Shortly after the election South Carolina threatened secession and John E. Ray wrote Dec. 14, 1860: "We are powerful. We are victorious. We can well afford to be generous, patient and forgiving. But if all these efforts fail and the Cotton states insist on seceeding, what should be done? Shall we allow them to withdraw peaceably?

"We say not. Rebellion is a crime that should always be promptly and sternly dealt with by a government which hopes to maintain any stability. — We hope it will now be demonstrated that it has both the power and the inclination to put down resistance to its lawful authority."

From Springfield, Illinois the train carrying the president-elect puffed its way to the inauguration by way of Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Dayton, Xenia, Columbus, Newark, Steubenville, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo, the New England states, finally reaching Washington D. C.

* * *

"NOW WHO ever heard of such a silly and ridiculous display as this before our country?" thundered the Feb. 15, 1861 Circleville Watchman. "Splendid cavalcade", "—a hifalutin and ostentatious display for the amusement and wonder of the curious and sycophant portion of our Northern population." It was believed that such a "triumphal march" was not "in harmony with the gloom and dispondency hanging over a distracted and divided country."

Plots of assassination were rumored in Baltimore and the Lincoln train slipped through in secrecy.

The Watchman struck again: "Republicans pretend to have discovered a great many plots to assassinate their President. All such pretensions are silly, contemptible and cowardly; and if Mr. Lincoln possessed as much courage in his whole composition as Old Hickory did in one finger, he would treat them in that light."

The March 8, 1861 Watchman editorial commented on the inaugural address; "Greatest merit consists in its brevity. We are free to admit that it is more conservative than we had anticipated; or rather, that it is not as radical and irrepressible as we had reason to believe it would be."

Kees sensed a glimmer of hope through the war clouds March 15, 1861 when a report was circulating that Federal troops would be withdrawn from Forts Sumper and Pickens, which in effect would be abandonment of these military stations to the confederacy.

But an effort was made to reinforce Fort Sumter and the war began. In succeeding editorials Kees fixed sole responsibility for the war on this single incident.

With the war a reality, Kees' highly-charged opinions penned under the slogan "The Constitution as it is and the Union as it was" subjected him to personal abuse and threats of "mobocracy and violence by dirty, cowardly braggarts. But none of them has yet exhibited the courage to meet us face to face and warn us to leave town." He published a "List of Bigots" in his newspaper, names of men and business firms that withdrew patronage in retaliation for his political sentiments.

In June, 1862, as he left a speaking engagement at Washington C.H. which was interrupted by hecklers, he was attacked by a mob but managed to escape in the manner described: "—mounted a buggy behind a horse which reminded us of the war horses of ancient times — for she carried us away from that yelling crowd of murderers from Washington C. H. to New Holland, ten miles in thirty minutes. We purchased that mare and she shall be ours, one of our family as long as we both live."

* * *

SOON AFTER this experience he was arrested by the War Department and imprisoned for two months in "Old Capitol", a federal prison at Washington D. C. At his release he was mentally and physically shattered and committed to the State Asylum in Columbus.

Sources differ as to his fate, one claiming that he died at the asylum in 1867 and another that he recovered and moved with his family to Nevada.

The Watchman was suspended then purchased by Dr. Wayne Griswold and published in the Odd Fellows Hall under the name Circleville Democrat. Editorials were more restrained until A. R. Van Cleaf became sole proprietor, editor and publisher Nov. 7, 1863. As can be noted from the editorial of July 8, 1864, the tempo quickened again: "Mr. Lincoln's hopes are destined to be blasted. The tidings of his renomination touched no cord in the popular heart, except that which vibrated with disgust."

Election results of 1864 showed nearly half the Ohio counties going to the Democratic nominee General George B. McClellan, Pickaway County being one of them, although Lincoln did pick up strength.

The largest majority turned in for McClellan was in Washington Twp. followed by: Madison, Walnut, Circleville 2nd ward, Circleville Twp., Deercreek, Circleville 1st ward, Scioto, Wayne, Jackson, Saltcreek, Circleville fourth ward, Pickaway. Harrison Twp. tottered into the McClellan camp by 1 vote.

Lincoln retained Perry and Monroe Twps., adding Muhlenberg, Circleville third ward and Darby. McClellan had a home vote in the county of 2363 and a soldier vote of 164: Lincoln a home vote of 1801 and soldier vote of 400.

The war at last dragged to its end and reconstruction became the paramount issue. The assassination of the president caused the nation to realize its great loss.

Phrased in the April 21, 1865 Circleville Democrat: "We doubt whether, among all the warmest personal friends of Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Seward there can be found one who is more deeply pained and shocked at this catastrophe, or who has darker fears of its unfortunate results to the country, than ourselves. There were no two men in the Administration whom the mass of the people looked to with as much hope and confidence that their influence would be thrown upon the side of wisdom and humanity—. Sorrowful it is, unexpressively sorrowful, that he of all others who had it in his power, and it was apparently his disposition to hold up the cup of peace to the nation, and the extract so far as he could, the stings of war, should fall with his mission unperformed."

Our forefathers were divided in their opinion of Mr. Lincoln as was the nation divided in the war. Criticism was, on occasion warranted or unnecessary. Time has permitted re-evaluation and rejudgment.

LINCOLN'S birthday is now a national holiday invoking memories of the Civil War when the great experiment in democracy was almost extinguished.

The Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution joins in the local observance by reminding the public to display their flags as a "measure of devotion" to American ideals.

'DEAD' FOR $89,700—Mrs. Mabel Thompson, 26, wife of a San Diego, Calif., contractor, sits in Sacramento, Calif., police station where she was taken after she wandered into a taxi company office looking dazed. It developed she was insured for $89,700 and was listed as having drowned near Stockton, Calif., Dec. 28.

Time Passes Quickly for Few Of County's Oldest Natives

It's been a long time since 21 of Pickaway County's natives were tipped upside down and let out their first squalk to begin their journey through life.

But time passes quickly from the 1800's of the horse and buggy, one-room school house, and the little corner grocery store where the families made their monthly trip for meal, sugar and a few necessities.

Today Pickaway County is growing in industry with larger towns, newer facilities, cars and the bustling of its many people.

Pickaway County was very young when Mrs. Mary Campbell Hoover was born. Mrs. Hoover is 101 years young and born in Harrison Twp., October 1, 1858.

Other "oldest" natives of Pickaway County are:

Anna Essick, 91, Ashville; Henry Fretwell, 90, Commercial Point; Mrs. A. M. Weigand, 93, Circleville; Mrs. Henry Renick, 90, Circleville Twp.; Charles McKinley, 90, Darby Twp.

* * *

WILLIAM J Miller, 85, Darbyville; Victor Ater, 83, Deercreek Twp.; Miss Elizabeth Anderson, 91, Jackson Twp.; Mrs. C. B. Teegardin, 81, Madison Twp.; Anna Mitchell, 89, Monroe Twp.

Mrs. Milton Beatty, 84, Muhlenberg Twp.; Mrs. Matilda B. Jones, 91, New Holland; William Tolbert, 81, Perry Twp.; Ralph Head, 88, Pickaway Twp.; Miss Eva Morris, 90, Saltcreek Twp.

Mrs. Zean Haughn, 92, Scioto Twp.; A. J. Roof, 88, South Bloomfield; John L. May, 99, Walnut Twp.; Mrs. Laura Clendenen, 89, Washington Twp.; Mrs. Minnie Cupp, 93, Wayne Twp.; and Ansel Wiiteside, 87, Williamsport.

These residents were recognized at the old fashioned "Box Social" held January 28 in the Circleville High School. This was the first event of the Sesquicentennial.

Victor Ater was the oldest Pickaway County resident present and had the honor of lighting the candle atop the birthday cake.

Knoxville Schools Get Desegregation Order

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor today ordered the Knoxville School Board to submit by April 8 a plan for desegregating city schools.

Taylor issued his order after S. Frank Fowler, counsel for the board, told the court that the board did not plan to offer an integration plan unless one was ordered by the court.

Fowler told the court the board would comply with his directive.

Death Ends Career Of Dr. Tom, an Ape

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Tom sat down at a piano to play real jazz.

Baltimore Zoo Director Arthur Watson said "he deliberately selected. He didn't pound."

High praise for a chimpanzee.

Dr. Tom was a TV star for eight years.

The Peabody Conservatory rejected his work. The sensitive ape never got over it.

Afterward he tried painting and clowning in a baseball suit, but he failed at both.

Dr. Tom died during the weekend in the prime of his life.

The veterinarian said he found a bad liver and other disorders in the 10-year-old chimpanzee.

He did not mention an artistic soul once disillusioned.

State Urged To End Curbs on Voting

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said today it would be a "great national blessing" if all the states voluntarily granted equal voting rights to eligible Negro citizens without waiting to be forced into that policy.

In an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, Rogers pledged continued efforts to end racial discrimination at the polls, which he called "a national problem that has been largely brushed under the rug for more than eight years."

"If good faith efforts were being made to give Negroes an equal opportunity to vote, there would be no necessity for federal action and none would be taken," he said.

Steubenville Plant Bought by Ohio Firm

CLEVELAND (AP)—The former Steubenville Pottery Co. plant, including 165,000 square feet of building and a 37-acre tract along the Ohio River, has been purchased by Barium & Chemicals, Inc. of Willoughby. Albert Pavlik Sr., president of Barium & Chemicals, announced the purchase Monday and said the property was worth in excess of two million dollars.

The Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution joins in the local observance by reminding the public to display their flags as a "measure of devotion" to American ideals.

'DEAD' FOR $89,700—Mrs. Mabel Thompson, 26, wife of a San Diego, Calif., contractor, sits in Sacramento, Calif., police station where she was taken after she wandered into a taxi company office looking dazed. It developed she was insured for $89,700 and was listed as having drowned near Stockton, Calif., Dec. 28.

Time Passes Quickly for Few Of County's Oldest Natives

It's been a long time since 21 of Pickaway County's natives were tipped upside down and let out their first squalk to begin their journey through life.

But time passes quickly from the 1800's of the horse and buggy, one-room school house, and the little corner grocery store where the families made their monthly trip for meal, sugar and a few necessities.

Today Pickaway County is growing in industry with larger towns, newer facilities, cars and the bustling of its many people.

Pickaway County was very young when Mrs. Mary Campbell Hoover was born. Mrs. Hoover is 101 years young and born in Harrison Twp., October 1, 1858.

Other "oldest" natives of Pickaway County are:

Anna Essick, 91, Ashville; Henry Fretwell, 90, Commercial Point; Mrs. A. M. Weigand, 93, Circleville; Mrs. Henry Renick, 90, Circleville Twp.; Charles McKinley, 90, Darby Twp.

* * *

WILLIAM J Miller, 85, Darbyville; Victor Ater, 83, Deercreek Twp.; Miss Elizabeth Anderson, 91, Jackson Twp.; Mrs. C. B. Teegardin, 81, Madison Twp.; Anna Mitchell, 89, Monroe Twp.

Mrs. Milton Beatty, 84, Muhlenberg Twp.; Mrs. Matilda B. Jones, 91, New Holland; William Tolbert, 81, Perry Twp.; Ralph Head, 88, Pickaway Twp.; Miss Eva Morris, 90, Saltcreek Twp.

Mrs. Zean Haughn, 92, Scioto Twp.; A. J. Roof, 88, South Bloomfield; John L. May, 99, Walnut Twp.; Mrs. Laura Clendenen, 89, Washington Twp.; Mrs. Minnie Cupp, 93, Wayne Twp.; and Ansel Wiiteside, 87, Williamsport.

These residents were recognized at the old fashioned "Box Social" held January 28 in the Circleville High School. This was the first event of the Sesquicentennial.

Victor Ater was the oldest Pickaway County resident present and had the honor of lighting the candle atop the birthday cake.

Knoxville Schools Get Desegregation Order

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor today ordered the Knoxville School Board to submit by April 8 a plan for desegregating city schools.

Taylor issued his order after S. Frank Fowler, counsel for the board, told the court that the board did not plan to offer an integration plan unless one was ordered by the court.

Fowler told the court the board would comply with his directive.

Death Ends Career Of Dr. Tom, an Ape

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Tom sat down at a piano to play real jazz.

Baltimore Zoo Director Arthur Watson said "he deliberately selected. He didn't pound."

High praise for a chimpanzee. Dr. Tom was a TV star for eight years.

The Peabody Conservatory rejected his work. The sensitive ape never got over it.

Afterward he tried painting and clowning in a baseball suit, but he failed at both.

Dr. Tom died during the weekend in the prime of his life.

The veterinarian said he found a bad liver and other disorders in the 10-year-old chimpanzee.

He did not mention an artistic soul once disillusioned.

State Urged To End Curbs on Voting

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said today it would be a "great national blessing" if all the states voluntarily granted equal voting rights to eligible Negro citizens without waiting to be foreed into that policy.

In an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, Rogers pledged continued efforts to end racial discrimination at the polls, which he called "a national problem that has been largely brushed under the rug for more than eight years."

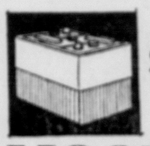

"If good faith efforts were being made to give Negroes an equal opportunity to vote, there would be no necessity for federal action and none would be taken," he said.

Steubenville Plant Bought by Ohio Firm

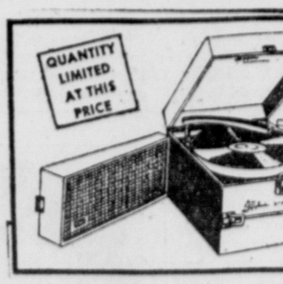

CLEVELAND (AP)—The former Steubenville Pottery Co. plant, including 165,000 square feet of building and a 37-acre tract along the Ohio River, has been purchased by Barium & Chemicals, Inc. of Willoughby. Albert Pavlik Sr., president of Barium & Chemicals, announced the purchase Monday and said the property was worth in excess of two million dollars.

Clear Water Hard To Find

Fresh, pure water is something Americans take for granted. It is startling, therefore, to learn of a World Health Organization estimate that three of every four people in the world today are not assured a supply of pure water.

In underdeveloped countries where hundreds of millions of people live, villagers take drinking water from rudimentary community wells — and often bathe, wash their clothes and water their livestock at the same place. It is not surprising that World Health Organization officials estimate that 75 per cent of the world's population suffers from diseases spread by polluted water or by factors related to the water supply.

Development in many areas of the globe may start with nothing more complicated than digging a new well down far enough to reach relatively pure underground water. The U. S. and other nations have made grants, loans and technical assistance available to more than 30 countries to support their water supply programs.

Some successes already been obtained. In Brazil every community in the whole Amazon River Valley now has good water from covered wells. In the Philippines one new well a day is being brought in under a major program. Egypt is drilling 500 deep wells into the underground Nile.

It isn't proving easy. Villagers resist the idea in some places. Data on underground water is often lacking. Some countries have learned to their sorrow that spare parts and technicians are necessary as well as enthusiasm.

States To Grab Phone Tax

Federal tax on local telephone service proves that unlike old soldiers taxes neither die nor fade away. The telephone tax, imposed as a wartime emergency levy, is due to expire June 30. If Congress ignores President Eisenhower's recommendation to continue it, most states propose to take over its collection — and the $735 million a year it produces.

From the standpoint of the states, the telephone tax is an ideal resource. Besides being easy to collect, it would create no new burden. It has been absorbed into household budgets and its continuance, with only its destination changed, would probably not invite widespread public resentment. Unlike federal taxes, all of it would be spent where it is raised, and for purposes as worthy as any Congress might select.

But the arguments of the governors, cogent though they may be, are countered by historical trend. The federal government has been encroaching on state revenue sources for a long time. It has never given up anything it grabbed, and it is unlikely it will start now.

Many People Afraid to Live

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Most people don't live," said Edward G. Robinson. "They worry about the after life—and they haven't really lived here."

"Living itself is a really rare thing. So very few people actually do live. They don't venture forth enough to be what they could be, which is—themselves," he says.

At 66, Robinson, a lower East Side boy who yearned in his youth to be a minister and wound up a rich and famous actor, is convinced that the thing which defeats most people is fear.

"They are afraid of living itself, the torment and consequences of living," he mused over a luncheon steak.

"We are raised up narrow-minded, and if we are to grow we must re-evaluate things.

"Many people are afraid of living because they are unwilling to pay the price. But you can't really duck the price. Happiness and unhappiness are interwoven in every life.

"Tragedy comes to everyone, and I think I've had my share. But if you don't let tragedy defeat you, you become that much richer as a human being."

To the public, Robinson is still best known for his gangster role in "Little Caesar," but in some 40 stage vehicles and 70 films he has played everything from business tycoons to scientists.

"Some actors say that if they had their lives to live over again they wouldn't go into the theater, But I would," he said.

"Aside from the material rewards of acting, you can express a sense of dedication.

"It is a great satisfaction to know that you can stir people—if you have the ability—to their innermost depths, to make them feel a little more compassionate toward others and toward themselves. That is a wonderful power.

"That is why an actor should always enlarge his scope and understanding, and try to enrich his own life in every way.

"The same thing is true, of course, for anyone in any field. The richer your own life, the better your work."

Here is his own philosophy, based on more than six decades of active living:

"Don't hurt people.

"Have a goal that is beyond you, and more important than you are. Serve it, and you will have more courage in life—and your life will have more importance, to you as well as to others.

"But never be sure you've really got the final answer to life or the problem of living. If you do, you're finished—done for."

Who's an Intellectual?

By George Sokolsky

It is a free country and everybody can make his own definitions. In fact, many make their own rules and manage to avoid either jail or censure. How long it is possible to remain both free and confused is the question of the times.

The CIA apparently believes that we have until 1964 when we shall be overtaken by the Russians. The San Francisco Beatniks, however, think that the end has already come, for some of their number have been deprived of the freedom of pushing narcotics.

Otto Preminger, the movie man, sees no end to freedom, for he is able to hire Fifth Amendment Communists to do pictures for him without reprisals.

Thus it is all in the point of view. Larry Farsace of Rochester, N. Y., has a private definition for an intellectual which is: "...anybody who thinks, reflects and weighs his facts carefully would be a candidate for the term intellectual..."

Sam Rosoff, the subway builder, who never went to school, would have made a remarkable intellectual, according to this definition. Frank Costello certainly thought, weighed his facts carefully and most of his life managed to keep out of jail thereby; until finally his errors caught up with him. However, neither Sam nor Frank would have regarded himself as an intellectual. I wonder if either of them knew who Aristotle or Michelangelo was.

Farsace says, "... Basically, anybody who thinks is an intellectual, not any set class or division."

Who does not think? Thinking is more an involuntary than a voluntary process. The housewife who looks about her kitchen to make up her shopping list has to do some very high grade thinking. She has to organize her time, note her financial resources, balance her books, plan meals, take inventory of her requirements, and take advantage of any opportunity to save money. She is a dietitian, small banker, hotel manager all wrapped in one.

Nobody would regard that as an especial intellectual activity, although it involves considerable thinking. In fact, probably the most difficult thought process of an entire lifetime is in the first grade of the primary school when a child has to learn to sit, what seems to be forever, on a hard seat and learn his letters.

It is the beginning of real tough discipline. What the child learns then must stay with him forever. And the child has to learn how to think hard, right there, at that early point of his life.

The term, intellectual, is for an adult. It is more European than American, although it is coming into vogue here. In Europe, it was used in the 19th Century to distinguish those who were educated from the peasantry. It is a term that originated in the medieval world when few could read or write and the clergy were a class apart because they could read. That was the test for a special class.

The written word, throughout the European and Asiatic world, was regarded as sacred and a man who could both read and write stood out as important. In all countries, calligraphy was a great art and those who possessed the art were noted.

The French Revolution overthrew the special quality of the intellectual; the Russian Revolution restored it. Out of the French Revolution emerged the concept that one man is as good as another; out of the Russian Revolution has come the concept that the specialist is more valuable to the State.

This is no small matter, for what the Russians have thus far proved is that the mind can be made to work on intricate scientific matters without too much concern about the blood line. In fact, the Russians have created an aristocracy of intellectuals and have kept the peasants in their place. They reject equality altogether as unscientific, which it is.

Our civilization tries, with increasing difficulty, to continue the doctrine of equality, which we call democracy. This is not proving to be a workable doctrine in the year 1960. Obviously, a member of Congress who cannot read a page of physics cannot intelligently vote on a military budget. He may sit with his mouth open in wonderment but he cannot think about the subject.

It is getting to be a tough world because there is too much to know and understand and the Farsaces of this country understand so little.

Try and Stop Me

AN INCREDIBLE BORE in "The Unbearable Bassington" attempts to tell the impatient Comus Bassington about an experience he had with an impoverished family. "The gratitude of these poor creatures," drones the bore, "when I presented them with a few trifles apiece, the tears in their eyes when they thanked me, would be impossible to describe."

"Thank you all the same for describing it," says Bassington.

Top Home Disease—Boredom!

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Here'a a seven-point program designed to make every day a happy day for you house-wives and your families. It comes, naturally, from a house-wife, Dora Albert.

In her new book, "Stop Feeling Tired and Start Living", Mrs. Albert lists certain rules which she says will keep you from feeling pooped at the end of the day and will generally make your home a happier one.

I think her program is a sound one, so I'd like to pass it on to you:

1. Start each morning with a hopeful, positive thought. When you awaken, think to yourself, "This is going to be a wonderful day."

Have smiles, not arguments for breakfast. You must give your husband enough emotional security at breakfast-time so he can endure the whole day's pressures. If you must bring up a point of dissention, do it later in the day, never at the breakfast table.

2. Try to avoid becoming unnecessarily angry during the day. When you are tempted to become angry, keep your voice down.

Think of the person to whom you are talking as a fictional character. In that way you can keep yourself from becoming emotionally involved.

3. Stop trying to be a perfectionist. Only a perfect woman could keep house immaculate at all times, bring up perfectly-behaved and happy children, always look stunning herself and still remain serene.

If your children are happy and well-adjusted and you yourself are radiant with happiness, your husband won't even notice that speck of dust in the corner. It isn't fatal.

4. Don't harp on things that go wrong, either to your husband or to anyone else. They don't make sparkling conversation and you become doubly worn out concentrating on the gloom.

5. Always stop any chore before you become tired. You can recuperate much more quickly than if you wait until you are tired.

Take frequent breif breathers. During these brief 'rest cures", notice the way the leaves on the trees outside your home are shaped, or notice the way a bird's wing curves, or recite to yourself a well-loved poem.

6. Always be sure thereris something in your life in the near future that you can look forward to. Try to devote at least two evenings a week to activities you enjoy.

7. Keep your mind shining and alive.

If there are household chores you don't particularly enjoy, try to find some way of making them enjoyable. If those tasks can be done automatically, then let your mind rove to other, more enjoyable, facts of life. ever let yourself get bogged down in boredom.

Makes a lot of sense, doesn't it?

Human Error Seen In Missile Flops

WASHINGTON (AP)—Failures of two recent Titan missile tests were caused by technical problems associated with ground activities, rather than by difficulties with the missile itself, the House Appropriations Committee disclosed today.

As a result, Air Force officials told the committee, personnel changes have been made.

Testifying before the committee last month, Joseph V. Charyk, assistant Air Force secretary, said "some of the difficulties have also been due to human errors." His testimony was made public today.

SHAPE means Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe.

'MAKES GEIGER COUNTER GO LIKE MAD' —Larry Williams, a funeral home operator in Henryetta, Okla., says his 3-month-old dachshund, Dorf, is radioactive and the pup's hair is falling out. "He makes my Geiger counter go like mad," Williams declared. He blames it on some refined uranium concentrate ore Dorf ate. An official of the Atomic Energy commission said in Washington, however, that he doubts that uranium ore could provide enough radioactivity to cause the pup to shed.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A subtle change is occurring in the nation —including the South—on civil rights.

It seems taken for granted now that this year an effort, probably a successful one, will be made to pass a civil rights bill in Congress.

Just a few years ago—before the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954—this would have been unthinkable.

At the most the House would have passed something, knowing well it would be strangled in the Senate by Southern filibuster or just lack of action.

This was how it had been since way back in the 19th century when the last batch of civil rights legislation was approved.

What happened to make it possible for Congress to pass in 1957 the first civil rights bill in 82 years and now seem on the verge of passing another?

If there is any single answer it is probably that the Supreme Court decision broke the dam.

In the first place, the court's action made Congress self - conscious. It did what Congress wouldn't do. It took action on civil rights.

The court had laid the groundwork for the public school decision with a whole series of opinions, going back into the 1940s, to break down racial segregation.

The protest from the South against the public school decision focused the attention of the whole country on this problem in a way it could not ignore.

The court was being defied.

The violence at Little Rock—over the admittance of Negro children to a school—shocked the country into further examination.

Bit by bit throughout the South the wall against the court's decision began to crumble. Negroes brought to the front another problem of equal importance: their difficulty in being allowed to vote.

The question of outlawing the poll tax which had been a furious rallying point for Southerners—bringing a filibuster from them four times in the 1940s—began to seem just a minor episode against the other problems.

That probably explains best why an anti-poll tax amendment to the Constitution passed the Senate last week with hardly a flurry. There was no thought of filibuster. It was even a Southerner who sponsored the amendment.

With the nation made self-conscious about Negroes' civil rights, there was no trouble passing the civil rights bill of 1957.

There was no filibuster. The Southerners apparently knew they couldn't win and it was a mild civil rights bill.

If this year the Eisenhower administration and Northern Democrats get together on another moderate civil rights bill, the Southerners once again will probably decide not to filibuster. If it's real tough, they might.

The pattern seems to be taking this shape. Year after year there will be a steady push, inside and outside Congress, to give the Negroes of the South more civil rights protection. Opposition in the South, against the pressure of national opinion, will melt slowly.

From the way it's going, this will take time. Population shifts, of course, are a factor in inducing Northern members of Congress to make more effort for civil rights legislation.

The Negro vote in the North is getting more important, liberal sentiment on the civil rights issue is increasing, more organizations, including organized labor, are demanding action.

But if it hadn't been for the court's decision in 1954, it is hard to believe there would be any more progress on civil rights now than there was in the 1940s or, for that matter, in the 1920s, when there wasn't any.

Editor: The Circleville Herald:

"Possibly by this time everyone has received their property and income tax forms.

Did you ever stop to think or figure how much you pay in taxes per month? The average working family will approximately pay $65 per month in taxes alone.

We all know we must pay taxes, but looks like there should be a stopping point somewhere along the line.

We will also have another bond issue to face in the near future. Do they ever get the old school buildings paid for? Taxes never go down. It's just the old school buildings that our father's started paying for approximately 50 or 60 years ago.

What happened to the tax money between the time the old school buildings were paid for and now?? Seems there should be a surplus!!

Remember the old phrase: "The rich gets richer and the poor get poorer?" This is what about 25 per cent of the tax money means to us! Naturally, we want our children to have the best education —we the public can AFFORD— but, do our children learn more by going to a fancy one floor plan brick school?

Looks as though two of our long sleek, fancy new schools could have been built under one roof, which would mean less land to buy, less shubbery, less upkeep on buildings, less employment, less school ground equipment and less on the initial cost.

This, we think, would give our children as good an education as they are receiving today—in the one floor plan school.

For the good of us and our children, we think it is time the public decided to defend themselves against this tax situation. After all this is "Free America" and we do have, "Freedom of Speech."

We think, we should take advantage of this wonderful freedom — before it takes advantage of us, as it has in the past!

"Some actors say that if they had their lives to live over again they wouldn't go into the theater, But I would," he said.

"Aside from the material rewards of acting, you can express a sense of dedication.

"It is a great satisfaction to know that you can stir people—if you have the ability—to their innermost depths, to make them feel a little more compassionate toward others and toward themselves. That is a wonderful power.

"That is why an actor should always enlarge his scope and understanding, and try to enrich his own life in every way.

"The same thing is true, of course, for anyone in any field. The richer your own life, the better your work."

Here is his own philosophy, based on more than six decades of active living:

"Don't hurt people.

"Have a goal that is beyond you, and more important than you are. Serve it, and you will have more courage in life—and your life will have more importance, to you as well as to others.

"But never be sure you've really got the final answer to life or the problem of living. If you do, you're finished—done for."

Who's an Intellectual?

By George Sokolsky

It is a free country and everybody can make his own definitions. In fact, many make their own rules and manage to avoid either jail or censure. How long it is possible to remain both free and confused is the question of the times.

The CIA apparently believes that we have until 1964 when we shall be overtaken by the Russians. The San Francisco Beatniks, however, think that the end has already come, for some of their number have been deprived of the freedom of pushing narcotics.

Otto Preminger, the movie man, sees no end to freedom, for he is able to hire Fifth Amendment Communists to do pictures for him without reprisals.

Thus it is all in the point of view. Larry Farsace of Rochester, N. Y., has a private definition for an intellectual which is:

"...anybody who thinks, reflects and weighs his facts carefully would be a candidate for the term intellectual..."

Sam Rosoff, the subway builder, who never went to school, would have made a remarkable intellectual, according to this definition. Frank Costello certainly thought, weighed his facts carefully and most of his life managed to keep out of jail thereby; until finally his errors caught up with him. However, neither Sam nor Frank would have regarded himself as an intellectual. I wonder if either of them knew who Aristotle or Michelangelo was.

Farsace says, "... Basically, anybody who thinks is an intellectual, not any set class or division."

Who does not think? Thinking is more an involuntary than a voluntary process. The housewife who looks about her kitchen to make up her shopping list has to do some very high grade thinking. She has to organize her time, note her financial resources, balance her books, plan meals, take inventory of her requirements, and take advantage of any opportunity to save money. She is a dietitian, small banker, hotel manager all wrapped in one.

Nobody would regard that as an especial intellectual activity, although it involves considerable thinking. In fact, probably the most difficult thought process of an entire lifetime is in the first grade of the primary school when a child has to learn to sit, what seems to be forever, on a hard seat and learn his letters.

It is the beginning of real tough discipline. What the child learns then must stay with him forever. And the child has to learn how to think hard, right there, at that early point of his life.

The term, intellectual, is for an adult. It is more European than American, although it is coming into vogue here. In Europe, it was used in the 19th Century to distinguish those who were educated from the peasantry. It is a term that originated in the medieval world when few could read or write and the clergy were a class apart because they could read. That was the test for a special class.

The written word, throughout the European and Asiatic world, was regarded as sacred and a man who could both read and write stood out as important. In all countries, calligraphy was a great art and those who possessed the art were noted.

The French Revolution overthrew the special quality of the intellectual; the Russian Revolution restored it. Out of the French Revolution emerged the concept that one man is as good as another; out of the Russian Revolution has come the concept that the specialist is more valuable to the State.

This is no small matter, for what the Russians have thus far proved is that the mind can be made to work on intricate scientific matters without too much concern about the blood line. In fact, the Russians have created an aristocracy of intellectuals and have kept the peasants in their place. They reject equality altogether as unscientific, which it is.

Our civilization tries, with increasing difficulty, to continue the doctrine of equality, which we call democracy. This is not proving to be a workable doctrine in the year 1960. Obviously, a member of Congress who cannot read a page of physics cannot intelligently vote on a military budget. He may sit with his mouth open in wonderment but he cannot think about the subject.

It is getting to be a tough world because there is too much to know and understand and the Farsaces of this country understand so little.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN INCREDIBLE BORE in "The Unbearable Bassington" attempts to tell the impatient Comus Bassington about an experience he had with an impoverished family. "The gratitude of these poor creatures," drones the bore, "when I presented them with a few trifles apiece, the tears in their eyes when they thanked me, would be impossible to describe."

"Thank you all the same for describing it," says Bassington.

Top Home Disease—Boredom!

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Here'a a seven-point program designed to make every day a happy day for you house-wives and your families. It comes, naturally, from a house-wife, Dora Albert.

In her new book, "Stop Feeling Tired and Start Living", Mrs. Albert lists certain rules which she says will keep you from feeling pooped at the end of the day and will generally make your home a happier one.

I think her program is a sound one, so I'd like to pass it on to you:

1. Start each morning with a hopeful, positive thought. When you awaken, think to yourself, "This is going to be a wonderful day."

Have smiles, not arguments for breakfast. You must give your husband enough emotional security at breakfast-time so he can endure the whole day's pressures. If you must bring up a point of dissention, do it later in the day, never at the breakfast table.

2. Try to avoid becoming unnecessarily angry during the day. When you are tempted to become angry, keep your voice down.

Think of the person to whom you are talking as a fictional character. In that way you can keep yourself from becoming emotionally involved.

3. Stop trying to be a perfectionist. Only a perfect woman could keep house immaculate at all times, bring up perfectly-behaved and happy children, always look stunning herself and still remain serene.

If your children are happy and well-adjusted and you yourself are radiant with happiness, your husband won't even notice that speck of dust in the corner. It isn't fatal.

4. Don't harp on things that go wrong, either to your husband or to anyone else. They don't make sparkling conversation and you become doubly worn out concentrating on the gloom.

5. Always stop any chore before you become tired. You can recuperate much more quickly than if you wait until you are tired.

Take frequent breif breathers. During these brief 'rest cures", notice the way the leaves on the trees outside your home are shaped, or notice the way a bird's wing curves, or recite to yourself a well-loved poem.

6. Always be sure thereris something in your life in the near future that you can look forward to. Try to devote at least two evenings a week to activities you enjoy.

7. Keep your mind shining and alive.

If there are household chores you don't particularly enjoy, try to find some way of making them enjoyable. If those tasks can be done automatically, then let your mind rove to other, more enjoyable, facts of life, ever let yourself get bogged down in boredom.

Makes a lot of sense, doesn't it?

Human Error Seen In Missile Flops

WASHINGTON (AP)—Failures of two recent Titan missile tests were caused by technical problems associated with ground activities, rather than by difficulties with the missile itself, the House Appropriations Committee disclosed today.

As a result, Air Force officials told the committee, personnel changes have been made.

Testifying before the committee last month, Joseph V. Charyk, assistant Air Force secretary, said "some of the difficulties have also been due to human errors." His testimony was made public today.

'MAKES GEIGER COUNTER GO LIKE MAD' — Larry Williams, a funeral home operator in Henryetta, Okla., says his 3-month-old dachshund, Dorf, is radioactive and the pup's hair is falling out. "He makes my Geiger counter go like mad," Williams declared. He blames it on some refined uranium concentrate ore Dorf ate. An official of the Atomic Energy commission said in Washington, however, that he doubts that uranium ore could provide enough radioactivity to cause the pup to shed.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A subtle change is occurring in the nation —including the South—on civil rights.

It seems taken for granted now that this year an effort, probably a successful one, will be made to pass a civil rights bill in Congress.

Just a few years ago—before the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954—this would have been unthinkable.

At the most the House would have passed something, knowing well it would be strangled in the Senate by Southern filibuster or just lack of action.

This was how it had been since way back in the 19th century when the last batch of civil rights legislation was approved.

What happened to make it possible for Congress to pass in 1957 the first civil rights bill in 82 years and now seem on the verge of passing another?

If there is any single answer it is probably that the Supreme Court decision broke the dam.

In the first place, the court's action made Congress self - conscious. It did what Congress wouldn't do. It took action on civil rights.

The court had laid the groundwork for the public school decision with a whole series of opinions, going back into the 1940s, to break down racial segregation.

The protest from the South against the public school decision focused the attention of the whole country on this problem in a way it could not ignore.

The court was being defied.

The violence at Little Rock—over the admittance of Negro children to a school—shocked the country into further examination.

Bit by bit throughout the South the wall against the court's decision began to crumble. Negroes brought to the front another problem of equal importance: their difficulty in being allowed to vote.

The question of outlawing the poll tax which had been a furious rallying point for Southerners—bringing a filibuster from them four times in the 1940s—began to seem just a minor episode against the other problems.

That probably explains best why an anti-poll tax amendment to the Constitution passed the Senate last week with hardly a flurry. There was no thought of filibuster. It was even a Southerner who sponsored the amendment.

With the nation made self-conscious about Negroes' civil rights, there was no trouble passing the civil rights bill of 1957.

There was no filibuster. The Southerners apparently knew they couldn't win and it was a mild civil rights bill.

If this year the Eisenhower administration and Northern Democrats get together on another moderate civil rights bill, the Southerners once again will probably decide not to filibuster. If it's real tough, they might.

The pattern seems to be taking this shape. Year after year there will be a steady push, inside and outside Congress, to give the Negroes of the South more civil rights protection. Opposition in the South, against the pressure of national opinion, will melt slowly.

From the way it's going, this will take time. Population shifts, of course, are a factor in inducing Northern members of Congress to make more effort for civil rights legislation.

The Negro vote in the North is getting more important, liberal sentiment on the civil rights issue is increasing, more organizations, including organized labor, are demanding action.

But if it hadn't been for the court's decision in 1954, it is hard to believe there would be any more progress on civil rights now than there was in the 1940s or, for that matter, in the 1920s, when there wasn't any.

Editor: The Circleville Herald:

"Possibly by this time everyone has received their property and income tax forms.

Did you ever stop to think or figure how much you pay in taxes per month? The average working family will approximately pay $65 per month in taxes alone.

We all know we must pay taxes, but looks like there should be a stopping point somewhere along the line.

We will also have another bond issue to face in the near future. Do they ever get the old school buildings paid for? Taxes never go down. It's just the old school buildings that our father's started paying for approximately 50 or 60 years ago.

What happened to the tax money between the time the old school buildings were paid for and now?? Seems there should be a surplus!!

Remember the old phrase: "The rich gets richer and the poor get poorer?" This is what about 25 per cent of the tax money means to us! Naturally, we want our children to have the best education —we the public can AFFORD— but, do our children learn more by going to a fancy one floor plan brick school?

Looks as though two of our long sleek, fancy new schools could have been built under one roof, which would mean less land to buy, less shubbery, less upkeep on buildings, less employment, less school ground equipment and less on the initial cost.

This, we think, would give our children as good an education as they are receiving today—in the one floor plan school.

For the good of us and our children, we think it is time the public decided to defend themselves against this tax situation. After all this is "Free America" and we do have, "Freedom of Speech."

We think, we should take advantage of this wonderful freedom — before it takes advantage of us, as it has in the past!

State Liquor Store Chief Is Accused

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—William W. McKee, 64, manager of a state liquor store in the Portage Lakes area, was arrested by sheriff's deputies today and accused of stealing three cases of whisky from the store. Chief Deputy George Vaughn said he would be charged with grand larceny.

Deputies investigated a break-in at the store early today and notified McKee, who told them that some liquor had been stolen, but that no money had been taken from the safe. The officers left after McKee told them he would have to wait at the store until his district supervisor arrived so he could make a report to him.

Vaughn said he became suspicious and ordered some deputies to watch the store from a nearby hiding place. The officers arrested McKee after he had carried three cases of liquor from the store and put them in the trunk of his car, Vaughan said. The liquor was valued at $115.

McKee explained that he suffers from a heart ailment and is under orders from a physician to take three ounces of whisky daily for medicinal purposes, Vaughn said. He has been manager of the store since 1955 and was scheduled to retire next year after nine years

Ohio Average Pay Shows Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Average weekly gross earnings of workers in Ohio's major cities climbed 2 to 6 per cent in December, as compared with November, the Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research reported today.

In its monthly report on employment conditions within the state, the bureau listed a 6 per cent gain in Dayton to a December average of $107.52.

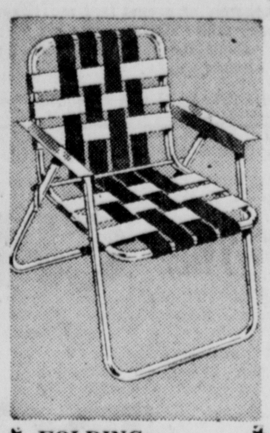

Youngstown, with $106.35, had an earnings increase of 4 per cent for December, and 14 per cent over the level for the previous December. This was the largest rise among the major cities over the 12-month period.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

From Sublime to Ridiculous

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about the terribly unsanitary practice of letting children blow out the candles on a birthday cake? One can plainly see the child blows and spits all over the cake. Then it is cut up and served to all the other children. No wonder our young people are sick in bed half the time.

MRS. L.

DEAR MRS. L.: If the entire human population hasn't already committed suicide with the mass exchange of germs that must take place while kissing—let's not worry about the few stray ones on a birthday cake.

DEAR ABBY: I recently got very mad at my girlfriend and I called her up and yelled at her. I used a bit of language I should not have used only to learn that it was her mother I was yelling at.

The next day I was told by this girl that her mother never wanted to see my face at her house again.

Abby, I know I was wrong. But I would like to know if I should call her mother and try to explain. I like this girl very much and know she likes me, too.

FOUL-MOUTH

DEAR FOUL-MOUTH: You've already done enough talking. Forget the ugly incident and maybe the girl's mother will, too. In the meantime, stay away from her house and pray for an 'all clear' signal. But don't be surprised if it never comes. Most mothers are allergic to foul-mouthed boys.

DEAR ABBY: I hope this helps "MA AND PA" who wanted to know how much a young working man who lives at home should give his parents.

I am 21. I work in a bank and clear $228 every month. I give my prents $90, which leaves me $138. I do not own a car. I drive my father's. But for the privilege of driving it, I pay for all the gas, oil, insurance and license. I buy all my own clothes and pay my dry cleaning bill. I buy lunch every day and date on week-ends. And I still have a little to put in the bank. What does a son owe his parents? That's simple. All he can give.

CONTENTED

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOLORES: We both know that he is OLD enough to KNOW better. But the question is: "Is he STRONG enough to DO better?"

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Finch Bares His Lothario Role with Medical Staff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch admits Carole Tregoff was not the first member of his staff with whom he had illicit sexual relations.

Before he became romantically involved with his red - haired receptionist, he says, he had affairs with two other women employes—one married, one divorced.

Under cross - examination, the crew-cut doctor testified Monday that the first two affairs occurred before he and his wife Barbara reached their "armistice" — an agreement he says permitted him to date other women freely.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are accused of conspiracy and murder in the gunshot death of Mrs. Finch, 36, last July 18. She was killed outside the expensive Finch home in West Covina. The doctor says he shot her accidentally.

The two women Finch said he romanced before Miss Tregoff were identified in court only as Mrs. X and Mrs. Y. He said both worked at his clinic.

His affairs with Mrs. X started in 1953, Dr. Finch said. Their trysts took place usually in automobiles, he said, and continued several months.

In 1956, Finch said, he went out with a divorced nurse, usually meeting her at her apartment. He stopped seeing her early in 1957.

The doctor said he denied the affairs to his wife. Even after the armistice, he said, he denied his affair with Miss Tregoff, who was then married.

Finch testified he wanted to save his wife's pride and keep Carole's husband from finding out about them.

Finch said he and his wife reached their armistice after their sex life became unsatisfactory.

Dr. Finch said he first dated Miss Tregoff Feb. 26, 1957. They gradually fell in love, he said, and in April he rented an apartment where they met and for the first time became intimate.

Ike Aide Says Warm Latin Visit Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said today he has no indication that President Eisenhower will receive other than a very cordial reception on his Latin-American tour.

The press secretary's comments were in response to questions about published reports that new information on the possibilty of Communist demonstrations in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay has brought a tightening of security plans.

Ride 'em Cowboy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ray Stricklyn rides horses all the time in westerns, but he rode a horse only once before he came to Hollywood.

"That was back in Houston; it ran away with me," says the 26-year-old Texan. "I didn't ride again until I landed some western roles out here. Actually getting on a horse was a big mental block."

In earlier roles Stricklyn always portrayed eastern boys, he said.

"I was always well dressed and well bred. Now I play nothing but criminals. I kill people by the dozen every week.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-4117

The February meeting of the Ashville Women's Civic Club was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Stanley Bowers. Mrs. Thomas Keal and Mrs. Harry Margulis were assisting hostesses.

The group repeated together the "collect" and then sang "America the Beautiful". Mrs. Felix Dore', leader of devotions, presented some interesting rules and facts on combating juvenile delinquency.

Miss Susan Rogers sang two solos, "Happy Talk" and "Once Upon a Dream", accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Glenn Rogers. Jimmy Deal played two piano solos, "Climbing" and "Largo".

Mrs. Donald Flierl, presided at the business meeting. The following committee was elected from the floor: Mrs. Lowell Cooper, Mrs. Rolland Featheringham, and Mrs. Paul Cromley. A new slate of officers are to be presented at the March meeting.

The club voted to renew its membership with the Pickaway County Federated Women's Club. The club gave considerable thought on joining with other clubs of the community to help beautify our park and downtown area. They felt much could be done to improve the village.

Mrs. Fred Engle, replacing Miss Nelle Oesterle who could not be present, read one of Miss Oesterle's book reviews, "The Trial of Mary Todd Lincoln".

THE BASTIAN Funeral Home moved Mrs. Homer Bausum, Route 2, Ashville, to Mercy Hospital, Friday, where she is suffering from a heart condition.

On Saturday they rushed Frank Morrison, N. Long St., Ashville, to Mercy Hospital after suffering a severe heart attack. He is reported to be in serious condition.

Mrs. Lee Sherman, Mrs. Herbert Neff and Mrs. Wilbur Neff are attending First Aid Classes at Lithopolis school. The course consists of 10 lessons.

The Ladies' Aid of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet Thursday evening in the church basement.

Mrs. Alice Purcell returned to her home Sunday after recovering from surgery in White Cross Hospital. She is reported to be improving each day.

The South Bloomfield P.T.O. is sponsoring a euchre party at the school at 8 p. m. February 20.

Mr. and Mrs. William Young Jr., and baby daughter visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Neff Monday. Mr. Young, brother of Mrs. Neff, returned with his family from Honolulu, Hawaii, after spending three years in the U. S. Navy there. Their daughter was born there last August.

Mr. and Mrs. Neff celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary Friday, February 5.

Orders will be taken this week for cookies homemade by the Senior Class of Ashville High School. Seven kinds of cookies will be available. They are as follows: Chocolate Chip, Oatmeal, Snowballs (Mexican Wedding), Sugar, Butterscotch, Peanut Butter and Brownies. All cookies are 40 cents a dozen except Brownies which are 50 cents. Cookies will be delivered on February 13. If you would like to place an order call either YU 3-5567 or YU 3-4632.

The Junior Class of Ashville High School is planning a Cherry Pie Sale on February 20. Next week's column will contain all of the details as to how to obtain the pies.

Congressman's Son Bares Family Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 9-year-old son of Rep. J. Edward Roush (D-Ind) recently heard his Sunday School teacher ask how many children would contribute a penny a day to the church building fund.

Every child but Joel Roush raised his hand.

"Why, Joel," the teacher said, "wouldn't you be willing to contribute a penny a day?"

"No," said Joel, "my father says he's going to need every cent we've got for his re-election campaign."

Ohio Collegian Confusing to Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. August E. Johansen (R-Mich) has described as "sadly confused" an Ohio college student's letter asking that an investigation of Red propaganda among U.S. youths be kept in perspective.

The letter was signed by Nelson as an Oberlin College undergraduate and a member of a Young Republican Club at the college.

Burstein had written to Johansen in his capacity as a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee. The committee last week held hearings on Communist propaganda among young Americans.

In his letter, Burstein said he hoped the inquiry would not develop "into a massive investigation into American youth and the academic community with the resultant confusion and loss of perspective."

Johansen called this a misunderstanding of the committee's purpose. Nobody, he said, ever suggested a massive investigation of youth in the first place.

Secondly, he told a reporter, he "reacted vehemently" to another suggestion by Burstein that Republicans on the committee should set an example of fairness to committee Democrats.

"The House Committee on Un-American Acitivities does not operate on partisan political lines." Johansen said.

Red Deputy Is Cheered By Cubans

HAVANA (AP) — Soviet supersalesman Anastas I. Mikoyan made appearances at both ends of Cuba's social scale Sunday. He was thunderously applauded on both occasions.

The Soviet deputy premier made the second public address of his Cuban visit to a meeting of the National Federation of Textile Workers. Sunday night he attended a concert of the Havana Symphony conducted by Soviet Composer Aram Khachaturian.

Mikoyan's speech to the textile workers included the usual Soviet boast of missile strength coupled with assurance of the Soviet Union's desire for peace.

"Those who talk of 'war," the Soviet leader said, "know that if we can send a rocket to the moon with such precision, we can send a rocket with the same precision to any point on earth."

But "war is against our wishes," he added. "We want peace, peace forever."

Mikoyan got another big hand as he outlined the rise of the Soviet Union under communism and declared, "the Cuban revolution can accomplish miracles, too."

Mikoyan was followed by Ernesto Guevara, leftist president of the National Bank of Cuba, who told the crowd the Cuban revolution will go forward.

6 Yugoslav Priests Get Stiff Jail Terms

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)-A Communist court today sentenced six Roman Catholic priests and two theology students to prison terms ranging from 2½ to 7 years for activities hostile to the state.

They were convicted of spreading propaganda for many years for a Fascist group which ruled the Nazi puppet state of Croatia during World War II.

Family Observing Rare Togetherness

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Richard Schneble family of nearby Oakwood will be practicing togetherness at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a few days.

Joyce Ann, 17, set out in the family car Sunday night to visit her mother, a patient there. She took a pot of flowers in the front seat.

When she made a sharp turn, the pot began to slide. She grabbed for it, lost control, and the car slammed into a utility pole.

Suffering scrapes, cuts, a broken nose and black eye, Joyce Ann was taken to St. Elizabeth and placed in the room with her mother.

The attending physician? Dr. Richard Schneble, a member of the hospital's staff.

Charles Darwin, who developed the theory of evolution more than 100 years ago, once studied to be a clergyman at Cambridge University.

Ohio Hardware Stores Urged To Step Up Ad Use

CLEVELAND (AP) — To meet competition from supermarkets and drug stores, the operators of hardware stores should advertise more in the daily papers, according to two officials of the Ohio Hardware Assn.

"The competition from supermarkets and drug stores, to name a few, is becoming tremendous," said Waldo W. (Ted) Herringshaw, who has a store in East Cleveland. Herringshaw is slated to become president of the association.

"They advertise every day in the papers. We must do the same." he said in an interview.

Ohio Hardware Stores Urged To Step Up Ad Use

CLEVELAND (AP) — To meet competition from supermarkets and drug stores, the operators of hardware stores should advertise more in the daily papers, according to two officials of the Ohio Hardware Assn.

"The competition from supermarkets and drug stores, to name a few, is becoming tremendous," said Waldo W. (Ted) Herringshaw, who has a store in East Cleveland. Herringshaw is slated to become president of the association.

"They advertise every day in the papers. We must do the same," he said in an interview.

Ray Von Bargen of Cincinnati, association president, said his store had spent $15,000 in advertising with circulars. "But the cost of their distribution is beating us," he added. He suggested that stores should "set up budgets for (newspaper) ads the same as they have budgets for light and telephone."

Red Deputy Is Cheered By Cubans

HAVANA (AP) — Soviet supersalesman Anastas I. Mikoyan made appearances at both ends of Cuba's social scale Sunday. He was thunderously applauded on both occasions.

The Soviet deputy premier made the second public address of his Cuban visit to a meeting of the National Federation of Textile Workers. Sunday night he attended a concert of the Havana Symphony conducted by Soviet Composer Aram Khachaturian.

Mikoyan's speech to the textile workers included the usual Soviet boast of missile strength coupled with assurance of the Soviet Union's desire for peace.

"Those who talk of 'war,'" the Soviet leader said, "know that if we can send a rocket to the moon with such precision, we can send a rocket with the same precision to any point on earth."

But "war is against our wishes," he added. "We want peace, peace forever."

Mikoyan got another big hand as he outlined the rise of the Soviet Union under communism and declared, "the Cuban revolution can accomplish miracles, too."

Mikoyan was followed by Ernesto Guevara, leftist president of the National Bank of Cuba, who told the crowd the Cuban revolution will go forward.

6 Yugoslav Priests Get Stiff Jail Terms

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A Communist court today sentenced six Roman Catholic priests and two theology students to prison terms ranging from 2½ to 7 years for activities hostile to the state.

They were convicted of spreading propaganda for many years for a Fascist group which ruled the Nazi puppet state of Croatia during World War II.

Family Observing Rare Togetherness

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Richard Schneble family of nearby Oakwood will be practicing togetherness at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a few days.

Joyce Ann, 17, set out in the family car Sunday night to visit her mother, a patient there. She took a pot of flowers in the front seat.

When she made a sharp turn, the pot began to slide. She grabbed for it, lost control, and the car slammed into a utility pole.

Suffering scrapes, cuts, a broken nose and black eye, Joyce Ann was taken to St. Elizabeth and placed in the room with her mother.

The attending physician? Dr. Richard Schneble, a member of the hospital's staff.

Charles Darwin, who developed the theory of evolution more than 100 years ago, once studied to be a clergyman at Cambridge University.

Carolina Negro Demonstration To Continue

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Two variety stores where Negroes protested segregated seating policies at lunch counters reopen here today, but the luncheon sections were closed "in the public interest of public safety."

In the meantime, demonstrations spread Monday from Greensboro to Winston-Salem and Durham.

Forty Negroes from North Carolina College occupied seats at the F. W. Woolworth Co. lunch counter here. They were joined by four white students from Duke University.

Officials closed the store after police received a telephone call that a bomb had been planted in the building. The demonstrators moved to the S. H. Kress and Co. store, which promptly was closed.

Officials of the Kress and Woolworth stores said the luncheon counters would be closed "in the interest of public safety.

Most of the stores involved allow Negroes to eat at standing lunch counters with whites.

The protests began last week in Greensboro when Negroes objected to policies of serving at lunch counters in variety stores.

SURPRISE FOR MAMA—Cuddling her 6-day-old baby, Mark Regan Bautzer, as she left Cedars of Lebanon hospital in Los Angeles, actress Dana Wynter found a brand new station wagon waiting for her at the door. It was a gift from her husband, attorney Greg Bautzer. Mark is their first child.

RUGGED INDIVIDUALIST — In 1917 the sea washed away the tiny fishing village of Hallsands, Devon, England. Mrs. Elizabeth Pettyjohn, now 74, and her brother refused to leave their sea-soaked, crumbling home (background). Her brother died six years ago and Mrs. Pettyjohn lives alone, supporting herself with the aid of a pension and by selling eggs to nearby hotels. The house is 20 feet from the sea's edge, a few feet above water level.

Toledo Dairies Bow to Farm Ultimatum

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Faced with the threat of a boycott by milk producers, 13 dairies in the Toledo market area have restored a 40-cents-per-hundredweight cut in the premium paid to farmers.

A spokesman for the dairies said this will mean cancellation of a penny-a-quart cut in the retail price of milk that went into effect Feb. 1.

Some 1,200 dairy farmers had threatened to start withholding milk today. The threat was made after premiums paid farmers under the federal milk marketing order were cut from $1.65 to $1.25 per hundredweight.

Sunday the 13 dairies, in Toledo, Bowling Green, Woodville, Wauseon and Napoleon, Ohio, and Monroe and Adrian, Mich., agreed to increase the premium for Class I milk to the $1.65 for the latter part of this month and for March. The premium for April, June and July will be $1.50.

The dairy industry spokesman said the boost in premiums will mean restoring the price of home-delivered milk to 24 cents a quart.

Double Trouble

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Oleg V. Suzdoleff, 27, found that trouble comes in double doses. He reported to Patrolman Kenneth Schiflet his car had been rammed on its left side. An hour later, Suzdoleff was before Patrolman Schiflet again. This time Suzdoleff's car had been battered from the rear.

FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

Photos 1956

JOHN B. EVERHART

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.)

JOHN B. EVERHART is being sought by the FBI for unlawfully fleeing the State of Georgia after he escaped on July 14, 1958, from an Oglethorpe County Public Works Camp, near Lexington, Ga., while serving a life sentence after conviction for murder.

Everhart was sentenced after shooting and killing a man in Atlanta, Ga., on Oct. 13, 1956, and on Oct. 13, 1956, while attempting to evade arrest, he shot a police lieutenant in the hand. While the officer was on the ground, Everhart missed with three more shots and fled. He was later caught, tried and sentenced.

On Aug. 27, 1958, a Federal warrant was issued at Athens, Ga., charging Everhart with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement after conviction for murder.

The fugitive, also known as John B. Eberhart, Harold Everhart, James B. Everhart and "Slick," has worked as cook, laborer and truck driver. He reportedly has spells of mental depression, may represent himself as a member of the clergy, and is interested in sketching and painting.

The fugitive reportedly has been in possession of a .38 caliber pistol, he shot and wounded a police officer while resisting arrest, and should be considered armed and dangerous.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

JOHN B. EVERHART

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.)

JOHN B. EVERHART is being sought by the FBI for unlawfully fleeing the State of Georgia after he escaped on July 14, 1958, from an Oglethorpe County Public Works Camp, near Lexington, Ga., while serving a life sentence after conviction for murder.

Everhart was sentenced after shooting and killing a man in Atlanta, Ga., on Oct. 13, 1956, and on Oct. 13, 1956, while attempting to evade arrest, he shot a police lieutenant in the hand. While the officer was on the ground, Everhart missed with three more shots and fled. He was later caught, tried and sentenced.

On Aug. 27, 1958, a Federal warrant was issued at Athens, Ga., charging Everhart with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement after conviction for murder.

The fugitive, also known as John B. Eberhart, Harold Everhart, James B. Everhart and "Slick," has worked as cook, laborer and truck driver. He reportedly has spells of mental depression, may represent himself as a member of the clergy, and is interested in sketching and painting.

The fugitive reportedly has been in possession of a .38 caliber pistol, he shot and wounded a police officer while resisting arrest, and should be considered armed and dangerous.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

Rapist Is Ruled Sane, Ordered To Stand Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charles T. Crawford, 21, charged with raping a 6-year-old girl and stuffing her inside a running refrigerator when she complained, must stand trial. Common Pleas Judge Frank Gusweiler so ruled Monday after a psychiatrist said examination indicated Crawford is both legally and medically sane. The girl's stepfather found her after the attack last Aug. 29 and she recovered.

Police Check 18 Accidents In January

The Circleville Police Department investigated 18 accidents during January.

A breakdown on this figure disclosed that 10 injuries resulted from the accidents, but no deaths were recorded.

According to Patrolman Roderick List, injuries were suffered by two pedestrains, two bicycle riders, three passengers and drivers in car collisions and three persons were hurt when their autos struck fixed objects.

A study of the accidents showed that five of the crashes came on Saturdays and three each on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

* * *

PATROLMAN List said more accidents were recorded at the noon hour than any other time. Midnight, 4 p. m. and 10 p. m. also were high on the occurrance list.

The local department made 28 arrests during the month. The list included 13 for intoxication, five traffic, two for driving under the influence of intoxicants, one grand larceny, one petit larceny, one assault and battery, one non-support, one breaking and entering and three miscellaneous citations.

Shade Assured

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Perhaps, as Joyce Kilmer said, only God can make a tree, but the city of St. Louis can, and does, give them away.

The city's residential sections have long been known for their shady tree-lined streets. But the trees, many of them planted more than 100 years ago, are beginning to die off.

So the city department of parks, recreation and forestry raised some shade trees, and they're free to any St. Louis home owner or renter. Each tree is from eight to 10 feet tall.

10 Lima Area Youths Arrested

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Lima police said today they are holding 10 teenagers in connection with 14 burglaries and vandalism in which $10,000 damage was done to four business establishments.

The youths are accused of smashing cash registers and calculating machines, damaging merchandise and wrecking a refrigeration unit during a vandalism spree Jan. 31.

Held are Phillip Dotson of Elida, and three Lima youths, Ronald Kisor, Daniel Spencer, and David Haver. All are 18. Six other youths were turned over to juvenile authorities.

THREE DIMENSION LANDING—William Hlavacek, 49, Chicago, thought the ice on Powers lake at Kenosha, Wis., would permit a landing, and it did, but not according to his own plan. He had to swim out the door to get free of his four-place Cessna.

Cincy Man Kills Wife, Slashes Infant Son

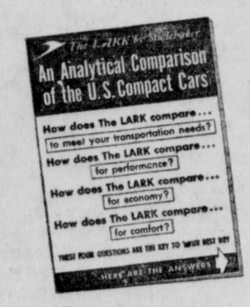

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 30, was holding her infant son, Barney, in her arms when her husband, after a family quarrel, lunged at her with a butcher knife. The infant was slashed seriously. She put the baby on a bed, then Otis Smith, 33, attacked his wife again and killed her.

That's the reconstruction by police who charged Smith with first-degree murder Monday. The youngster, one of five Smith children, was in serious condition.

"I am willing to give supports to market prices of pvious years, or to establish supports in accordance with general rather than specific provisions of law, or to relate price supports to parity."

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

The whole tone of the Eisenhower election year message—with both parties bidding for the often crucial farm vote—was to put it squarely up to the Democratic-controlled Congress to do something about solving the problems the President outlined.

"If the Congress wishes to propose a plan as an alternative to the course here recommended, so long as that plan is constructive as I have indicated herein, I will approve it," Eisenhower said.

Other legislative recommendations included:

1. A three-year extension of the soil bank land retirement program and an expansion from the present 28 million acres to 60 million acres. This program is designed to help curtail overproduction. Eisenhower proposed that the government be permitted to make rental payments on retired land in the form of crop surpluses as well as cash.

2. A vigorous advancement of the government's food for peace program for moving surpluses to needy areas abroad.

3. An aggressive research program to develop new markets and new uses for farm products.

4. An expansion of the rural development program to help low income rural families find better opportunities on and off the land.

The message made no recommendations regarding extension of the sugar control act which expires at the end of this year. This act is designed to help stabilize prices and supplies through a system of import and domestic marketing quotas.

Neither did it mention a proposal made by Eisenhower in his budget message to raise the interest charged to rural power and telephone borrowers by the Rural Electrification Administration.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said these two matters will be laid before Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

In emphasizing need for new wheat legislation the President pointed out that the government has about 3½ billion dollars tied up in surpluses of the grain. He said it costs the government more than $1,000 a minute the year round to stabilize wheat prices and income.

Eisenhower said he has repeatedly expressed a preference for farm programs that "will ultimately free the farmers rather than subject him to increasing governmental restraints. He added:

"I'm convinced that most farmers hold the same view. But whatever the legislative approach, whether toward greater freedom or greater regimentation, it must be sensible and economically sound and not a political poultice, and it must be enacted promptly."

MONROE
By Marie Dingus

Gloria Jean Heeter entered the First Grade this week. She attended Pickaway School before coming here .We have two birthdays in our room today. Peggy Jo Neff and Craig Liston.

Almost all of us have come back to school after having our turn with influenza. There are two absent today. We are looking forward to Valentine's Day. Some valentines have been made in art class.

Everyone in the Fourth Grade has been busy making decorations for our room. We also made things to be used for decoration in the auditorium next Tuesday night at the Grange Open House meeting.

We are all anxiously waiting for the surprise that Mrs. Armentrout, Mrs. Downs and Mrs. Sanders will bring to our Valentine party next Friday. These ladies are our Room Mothers for this party.

• • •

HOW WILL WE spend money which we have earned? This is our problem. We have finished a room project of selling flower and vegetable seeds. We hope to buy new games, library books and many other things that will make our work more educational and interesting.

This past week we did an experiment in science. We put an egg into a milk bottle without breaking it. Can you do it? We also learned why we were able to do it. Do you know?

We bought some new ball-point pens which we enjoy using and hope they will help us to write better. They are curved to fit the fingers and are not as slick as some pens that we have been using.

"Homecoming" has been the big word among the students these past few weeks. The Seniors, traditionally are in charge of decorations. They are quite proud of their accomplishments.

A background was constructed on the bleachers to represent a throne for the queen and her court. A large pink heart, upon which is centered a gold, sparkly covered cupid with his famous archer's bow and arrow, was constructed.

Streamers of pastel crepe paper radiate along a frame to the front of the bleachers. An arch to be used during the crowning ceremonies also was decorated with pink hearts and silver stars.

• • •

THE CEREMONIES will take place during the halftime portion of the reserve game. Miss Sue Houser will act as narrator for the program. Following the game, a dance will be held. The first dance will be led by the queen and her court. We, the student body, wish the teams good luck in their games.

In Eighth Grade science we started working on a unit in water. The first chapter dealt with solutions, solutes, solvents and the physical and chemical properties of substances.

Ernie Lindsey, Rex Ingman and Bobby Sparks each brought in their chemistry sets so that we might see different substances, learn to recognize their properties and see if we might form various solutions.

We used the mortar and pestle from the high school laboratory to see if we could change some of these properties.

In addition we learned, by experimentation, that solids will dissolve in warm or hot solvents than in cool or cold solvents. We had learned already that gases would dissolve faster in cool solvents.

You may also discover this if you run a glass of water of a tap, then allow it to stand, you will notice a few bubbles collecting inside as the water warms to room temperature.

IN HOME Economics many of the girls are working on their skirt projects, most of them involved in finishing touches of hemming.

We will spend our time the next week making plans for our field trip. During this time we shall decide just what type of pattern we will select and the fabric which will be needed to complete a lined project for spring.

We may select a dress - coat combination, a suit or a sports outfit featuring a lined jacket. While on our field trip we will select our fabrics, with the aid of our teacher.

While studying the life of the prehistoric man and his evolution in biology I, we have noticed the fact that while man progressed there have been many changes in the size of his body.

We performed a mathematical experiment to determine just what category of round-headed, meduim-headed or long-headed the average of our Sohpomore Class belongs. You whould be amazed as we were to find that we were round-headed and not the "squares" we are often times thought to be.

We never knew we had so many bones in our body or even the names of them until we began the study of the skeleton this past week.

THE SEVENTH Grade has been moving along fairly well since the beginning of the 2nd semester, in American history. They seem to enjoy history and are attempting to make better grades than they did in geography. Believe me, they have the full support of their parents as well as their teacher.

To aid in their understanding of American history and current problems of today, each has been assigned to secure the headlines from a newspaper, read the accompanying story and then summarize their reading in their own words.

This is a part of their daily grade. The results are rewarding in that they began to understand new terms that they hear on news broadcasts and they begin to see the relation of today's news to the history of their country.

The girls have been learning a few social "cues" in physical education, by taking up square and folk dancing .Our school is privileged to have a "juke - box" where everyone has the opportunity to dance at noon and during physical education periods.

We wished to develop our square dance skills in preparation for the Homecoming Dance, which is a 50-50 dance. The junior - high physical education class invited the sixth grade girls to join them.

Each Seventh and Eighth Grade girl selected one of the Sixth Grade girls to be their partner for insturction. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the classes.

ACCUSED BY SON — Mrs. Gladys Norman, 47, displays a black eye and a distraught air after being taken in custody in Los Angeles on accusation of her 15-year-old son John, who called police to say, "I want my mother arrested — she's using dope again." The black eye is from a tussle in which John took some sleeping pills containing barbiturates from her. She's a registered nurse.

Stevenson Leaves On Latin Tour

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson leaves on a two-month tour of Latin America today, a trip he says he is making as a learner who hopes to return "a better citizen of the hemisphere."

"As we all know, some (Latin American) countries have suffered from dictatorship and corruption," the twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate said in a state. "I want to understand these problems better."

The first leg of his journey takes him to Mexico City. From there he will journey to other Mexican cities before heading south via Guast Panama. Eleven Central and South American countries are on his itinerary.

Dayton Theater Chief Gets Sentence, Fine

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Allen S. Warth, manager of The Art Theatre here, has been given a 30-day workhouse term and fined $1,000 for exhibiting the French film, "The Lovers." A Municipal Court jury, in convicting Warth last Wednesday, found the film "obscene."

Judge Emmett J. Jackson suspended the workhouse term and half the fine of condition Warth exhibits no more "indecent" movies.

"I am willing to give supports to market prices of pvious years, or to establish supports in accordance with general rather than specific provisions of law, or to relate price supports to parity."

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

The whole tone of the Eisenhower election year message—with both parties bidding for the often crucial farm vote—was to put it squarely up to the Democratic-controlled Congress to do something about solving the problems the President outlined.

"If the Congress wishes to propose a plan as an alternative to the course here recommended, so long as that plan is constructive as I have indicated herein, I will approve it," Eisenhower said.

Other legislative recommendations included:

1. A three-year extension of the soil bank land retirement program and an expansion from the present 28 million acres to 60 million acres. This program is designed to help curtail overproduction. Eisenhower proposed that the government be permitted to make rental payments on retired land in the form of crop surpluses as well as cash.

2. A vigorous advancement of the government's food for peace program for moving surpluses to needy areas abroad.

3. An aggressive research program to develop new markets and new uses for farm products.

4. An expansion of the rural development program to help low income rural families find better opportunities on and off the land.

The message made no recommendations regarding extension of the sugar control act which expires at the end of this year. This act is designed to help stabilize prices and supplies through a system of import and domestic marketing quotas.

Neither did it mention a proposal made by Eisenhower in his budget message to raise the interest charged to rural power and telephone borrowers by the Rural Electrification Administration.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said these two matters will be laid before Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

In emphasizing need for new wheat legislation the President pointed out that the government has about 3½ billion dollars tied up in surpluses of the grain. He said it costs the government more than $1,000 a minute the year round to stabilize wheat prices and income.

Eisenhower said he has repeatedly expressed a preference for farm programs that "will ultimately free the farmers rather than subject him to increasing governmental restraints. He added:

"I'm convinced that most farmers hold the same view. But whatever the legislative approach, whether toward greater freedom or greater regimentation, it must be sensible and economically sound and not a political poultice, and it must be enacted promptly."

MONROE
By Marie Dingus

Gloria Jean Heeter entered the First Grade this week. She attended Pickaway School before coming here .We have two birthdays in our room today. Peggy Jo Neff and Craig Liston.

Almost all of us have come back to school after having our turn with influenza. There are two absent today. We are looking forward to Valentine's Day. Some valentines have been made in art class.

Everyone in the Fourth Grade has been busy making decorations for our room. We also made things to be used for decoration in the auditorium next Tuesday night at the Grange Open House meeting.

We are all anxiously waiting for the surprise that Mrs. Armentrout, Mrs. Downs and Mrs. Sanders will bring to our Valentine party next Friday. These ladies are our Room Mothers for this party.

• • •

HOW WILL WE spend money which we have earned? This is our problem. We have finished a room project of selling flower and vegetable seeds. We hope to buy new games, library books and many other things that will make our work more educational and interesting.

This past week we did an experiment in science. We put an egg into a milk bottle without breaking it. Can you do it? We also learned why we were able to do it. Do you know?

We bought some new ball-point pens which we enjoy using and hope they will help us to write better. They are curved to fit the fingers and are not as slick as some pens that we have been using.

"Homecoming" has been the big word among the students these past few weeks. The Seniors, traditionally are in charge of decorations. They are quite proud of their accomplishments.

A background was constructed on the bleachers to represent a throne for the queen and her court. A large pink heart, upon which is centered a gold, sparkly covered cupid with his famous archer's bow and arrow, was constructed.

Streamers of pastel crepe paper radiate along a frame to the front of the bleachers. An arch to be used during the crowning ceremonies also was decorated with pink hearts and silver stars.

• • •

THE CEREMONIES will take place during the halftime portion of the reserve game. Miss Sue Houser will act as narrator for the program. Following the game, a dance will be held. The first dance will be led by the queen and her court. We, the student body, wish the teams good luck in their games.

In Eighth Grade science we started working on a unit in water. The first chapter dealt with solutions, solutes, solvents and the physical and chemical properties of substances.

Ernie Lindsey, Rex Ingman and Bobby Sparks each brought in their chemistry sets so that we might see different substances, learn to recognize their properties and see if we might form various solutions.

We used the mortar and pestle from the high school laboratory to see if we could change some of these properties.

In addition we learned, by experimentation, that solids will dissolve in warm or hot solvents than in cool or cold solvents. We had learned already that gases would dissolve faster in cool solvents.

You may also discover this if you run a glass of water of a tap, then allow it to stand, you will notice a few bubbles collecting inside as the water warms to room temperature.

IN HOME Economics many of the girls are working on their skirt projects, most of them involved in finishing touches of hemming.

We will spend our time the next week making plans for our field trip. During this time we shall decide just what type of pattern we will select and the fabric which will be needed to complete a lined project for spring.

We may select a dress - coat combination, a suit or a sports outfit featuring a lined jacket. While on our field trip we will select our fabrics, with the aid of our teacher.

While studying the life of the prehistoric man and his evolution in biology I, we have noticed the fact that while man progressed there have been many changes in the size of his body.

We performed a mathematical experiment to determine just what category of round-headed, meduim-headed or long-headed the average of our Sohpomore Class belongs. You whould be amazed as we were to find that we were round-headed and not the "squares" we are often times thought to be.

We never knew we had so many bones in our body or even the names of them until we began the study of the skeleton this past week.

Oil Companies See Stocks On Decline

Earnings Are Good, But Overproduction Is Chief Bugbear

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil stocks have been taking their drubbings, but in most cases the companies have been showing up well in the earnings reports.

Their big trouble has been from sliding prices on the stock exchange. This sprang from the well-realized fact that the world at the moment has more oil production and refining capacity than people really need.

And it hasn't helped any that the big investment funds — until recently—have shown up as selle rsof oil stocks rather than buyers.

Yet some of the biggest companies are showing increased earnings over last year.

The oil industry isn't running scared. It's just running cautious.

Some of the biggest companies are tightening up their operations. They have consolidated bookwork, so that one executive's signature can now do the work of two, or more, executives.

However high their stocks may have been bid, the oil companies' potentials aren't being overlooked in Wall Street. The industry goes on selling a little more each year, and expects to go on that way.

It brags that each year it has found a little more oil than it has sold. If it gets into political trouble in one part of the globe, it always somehow seems to come up with new wells in another.

By and large, this has been quite profitable.

The 26 oil companies reporting 1959 earnings to date show that only four made less money after taxes than in 1958. Combined their profits show a 12.6 per cent increase over the previous year.

And yet 1959 was a year in which they were supposed to be having particular difficulties. The international ones were having trouble with governments overseas.

At home, there was the problem of having more oil that could be pumped than could be sold.

But oilmen note that year by year the demand for oil rises in the world.

Victor Herbert not only wrote his immortal songs, but also did his own arrangements for orchestras to play those songs.

Naples, Italy, was founded by Greek cononists.

Yank Turbit Output Ahead Of British

WASHINGTON (AP) —Americans apparently have forged ahead of the British in a field where they once ruled the roost—in turbits.

A turbit is a pigeon. But it is not an ordinary sort of pigeon.

The new variety is reared by foster parents. Because the turbit normally has a very short beak, the young bird can't insert its beak into that of its parent to get food as the ordinary pigeon baby does.

So breeders mate two turbits and two long-beaked birds of another breed at the same time. When the eggs are laid, the breeders switch them. Thus long-beaked parents bring up the turbits and short-beaked turbit parents bring up the long-beaked youngsters.

The turbit, a hard bird to breed, got started about two or three centuries ago and was highly developed in England in the last century.

But according to the top turbit breeder in the country, in the last 50 or 60 years the Americans have changed the bird, using different standards from the English.

"We feel we've gone way ahead of them," said Philip L. Roof of nearby Hyattsville, Md.

Roof is executive assistant to the architect of the United States Capitol, a building with a few pigeon problems.

Roof isn't exactly enthusiastic about the common old type of pigeon. They're the same the world over, he said, from the U.S. Capitol dome to the sun-baked village squares of India.

Education Chief Booked Before Small Audience

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Board of Education President Charlton Myers will deliver the commencement address at Put-In-Bay High School May 27. The audience won't be too large. The school on the Lake Erie island has only 19 students—and the graduating class consists of two girls.

New York Family Accepted OK by Mississippi Town

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Greenwood, Miss. (AP) — The Civil War is over at last down here on the Delta.

It took a Yankee family from Binghamton, N. Y., to accomplish this miracle in the hearts of the Deep South where antebellum mansions are still preserved with loving care and where until recently "damyankee" was all one word.

The head of the peacemaking clan is Mrs. Sumter Gillespie, a lovely little Dresden doll kind of a lady, publisher of the up and coming Greenwood Commonwealth and generally conceded the Delta's hostess with the mostes'.

Her aides are her tall good-looking son, Bill Richardson, general manager of the paper, and her daughter, smart and pretty Mrs. William Michael Biggers, women's editor.

Another daughter, Nancy Richardson, teaches music at Olw Miss. It was 12 years ago that the widowed Mrs. Richardson of Binghamton came down to Greenwood for a visit and was wooed and won by the late Sumter Gillespie, Commonwealth publisher.

Daughter Jane then was persuaded to quit her fashion job in New York and join the staff of her stepfather's newspaper.

In less time than it takes to say Gen. Robert E. Lee she was married to big handsome Mike Biggers, dyed in the wool son of the Deep South.

After the recent death of publisher Gillespie his widow found herself the head of the company.

Friends from the North said of course you'll come back home now, but Marion Gillespie lifted her small firm chin and replied, "Home, this is my home and here I stay."

More important, the paper is gaining circulation and making money.

You might think the old plantation families of this rich and aristocratic Delta country would resent the invasion of these modern Yankees, but not so. The charming and businesslike Marion Gillespie has a finger in every Mississippi political issue. Her opinonsi are sought and respected opinions are sought and respected dustry throughout the state. Her parties are the most popular in the Delta.

The clannish bluebloods agree the best thing that ever happened to the Delta was the arrival of Marion Gillespie.

Buddy De Sylva, composer of "When Day Is Done," "Button Up Your Overcoat" and other hit tunes, began song writing when he was a student in the University of Southern California.

Cop Sergeant Arrested For Running Red Light

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Suspended for failing to obey city and state emergency vehicle regulations when he drove his police cruiser through a red light on the way to a fire, Sgt. Oil Companies See Stocks On Decline

Earnings Are Good, But Overproduction Is Chief Bugbear

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil stocks have been taking their drubbings, but in most cases the companies have been showing up well in the earnings reports.

Their big trouble has been from sliding prices on the stock exchange. This sprang from the well-realized fact that the world at the moment has more oil production and refining capacity than people really need.

And it hasn't helped any that the big investment funds — until recently—have shown up as selle rsof oil stocks rather than buyers.

Yet some of the biggest companies are showing increased earnings over last year.

The oil industry isn't running scared. It's just running cautious.

Some of the biggest companies are tightening up their operations. They have consolidated bookwork, so that one executive's signature can now do the work of two, or more, executives.

However high their stocks may have been bid, the oil companies' potentials aren't being overlooked in Wall Street. The industry goes on selling a little more each year, and expects to go on that way.

It brags that each year it has found a little more oil than it has sold. If it gets into political trouble in one part of the globe, it always somehow seems to come up with new wells in another.

By and large, this has been quite profitable.

The 26 oil companies reporting 1959 earnings to date show that only four made less money after taxes than in 1958. Combined their profits show a 12.6 per cent increase over the previous year.

And yet 1959 was a year in which they were supposed to be having particular difficulties. The international ones were having trouble with governments overseas.

At home, there was the problem of having more oil that could be pumped than could be sold.

But oilmen note that year by year the demand for oil rises in the world.

Victor Herbert not only wrote his immortal songs, but also did his own arrangements for orchestras to play those songs.

Naples, Italy, was founded by Greek cononists.

Yank Turbit Output Ahead Of British

WASHINGTON (AP) —Americans apparently have forged ahead of the British in a field where they once ruled the roost—in turbits.

A turbit is a pigeon. But it is not an ordinary sort of pigeon.

The new variety is reared by foster parents. Because the turbit normally has a very short beak, the young bird can't insert its beak into that of its parent to get food as the ordinary pigeon baby does.

So breeders mate two turbits and two long-beaked birds of another breed at the same time. When the eggs are laid, the breeders switch them. Thus long-beaked parents bring up the turbits and short-beaked turbit parents bring up the long-beaked youngsters.

The turbit, a hard bird to breed, got started about two or three centuries ago and was highly developed in England in the last century.

But according to the top turbit breeder in the country, in the last 50 or 60 years the Americans have changed the bird, using different standards from the English.

"We feel we've gone way ahead of them," said Philip L. Roof of nearby Hyattsville, Md.

Roof is executive assistant to the architect of the United States Capitol, a building with a few pigeon problems.

Roof isn't exactly enthusiastic about the common old type of pigeon. They're the same the world over, he said, from the U.S. Capitol dome to the sun-baked village squares of India.

Education Chief Booked Before Small Audience

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Board of Education President Charlton Myers will deliver the commencement address at Put-In-Bay High School May 27. The audience won't be too large. The school on the Lake Erie island has only 19 students—and the graduating class consists of two girls.

New York Family Accepted OK by Mississippi Town

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Greenwood, Miss. (AP) — The Civil War is over at last down here on the Delta.

It took a Yankee family from Binghamton, N. Y., to accomplish this miracle in the hearts of the Deep South where antebellum mansions are still preserved with loving care and where until recently "damyankee" was all one word.

The head of the peacemaking clan is Mrs. Sumter Gillespie, a lovely little Dresden doll kind of a lady, publisher of the up and coming Greenwood Commonwealth and generally conceded the Delta's hostess with the mostes'.

Her aides are her tall good-looking son, Bill Richardson, general manager of the paper, and her daughter, smart and pretty Mrs. William Michael Biggers, women's editor.

Another daughter, Nancy Richardson, teaches music at Olw Miss. It was 12 years ago that the widowed Mrs. Richardson of Binghamton came down to Greenwood for a visit and was wooed and won by the late Sumter Gillespie, Commonwealth publisher.

Daughter Jane then was persuaded to quit her fashion job in New York and join the staff of her stepfather's newspaper.

In less time than it takes to say Gen. Robert E. Lee she was married to big handsome Mike Biggers, dyed in the wool son of the Deep South.

After the recent death of publisher Gillespie his widow found herself the head of the company.

Friends from the North said of course you'll come back home now, but Marion Gillespie lifted her small firm chin and replied, "Home, this is my home and here I stay."

In the last year the Greenwood Commonwealth has undergone extensive face lifting. The building is now a gleaming modern structure with a new rotary color press. The news room is lighted by a radiant-paneled ceiling. The front office is separated from the composing room by panels of butterfly glass.

More important, the paper is gaining circulation and making money.

You might think the old plantation families of this rich and aristocratic Delta country would resent the invasion of these modern Yankees, but not so. The charming and businesslike Marion Gillespie has a finger in every Mississippi political issue. Her opinonsi are sought and respected opinions are sought and respected dustry throughout the state. Her parties are the most popular in the Delta.

The clannish bluebloods agree the best thing that ever happened to the Delta was the arrival of Marion Gillespie.

Buddy De Sylva, composer of "When Day Is Done," "Button Up Your Overcoat" and other hit tunes, began song writing when he was a student in the University of Southern California.

Cop Sergeant Arrested For Running Red Light

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Suspended for failing to obey city and state emergency vehicle regulations when he drove his police cruiser through a red light on the way to a fire, Sgt. Herbert Rising gets a hearing Wednesday before Safety-Service Director Ben Bohl. Chief Manley R. English suspended Rising indefinitely Monday.

Rising's auto collided with another car.

Northwestern Rated No. 1 Among Class A Cagers Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big news in Class A circles this week is the emergene of Northwestern of Wayne County, 1958 state champion, as No. 1 in the Associated Press poll. The exkings, with a neat 18-0 record, climbed from third to first place this week as 46 sports writers participated in the ratings.

Van Del of Van Wert County, last week's leader, suffered its first loss—a 43-42 squeaker to Convoy-Union's 17-1 team. Salem Local of Urban, with 16-0, clung to second place.

Only change in the Class A top 10 personnel came as Fostoria St. Wendelin (15-1), eighth last week, dropped out to make room for Granville's unbeaten squad.

Three of the top 10 in Class AA suffered defeats, and two of them dropped from the elite. Lakewood's 13-game winning streak was halted by unbeaten Canton Timken, 63-56, as John Namciu scored 29 for the victors.

The win boosted Timken from fifth to fourth place, and dropped Lakewood from fourth to sixth. Springfield was victimized by Lima Senior, 62-61, and Pomeroy—in the ratings for the first time last week—was handed its first loss 54-53 by Jackson.

Both Springfield and Pomeroy were ousted, and Toledo Scott (14-1) moved into seventh and unbeaten Xenia (13-0) into ninth.

The top three, Dayton Roosevelt, Cleveland East Tech and Salem, stayed where they were.

From here and there: East Tech's defending Class AA champions end their regular season Friday against Cleveland Cathedral Lain. The Scarabas have won 14 straight after dropping the opener.

Trumbull County's 40th Class A tournament opens next Tuesday, with Vienna (15-3) and Lordstown (15-4) the top-seeded teams. Vienna plays unbeaten Lowellville (15-0) tonight.

Massillon and Mansfield played an experimental game Saturday, using the professional rule which forces a team to shoot within 24 seconds after getting the ball. Massillon won 62-60 in an overtime for a 13-3 record. Tiger coach Bob Greenwood says the rule is good for the spectators, but he doesn't think high school boys are ready for it. Each team lost the ball once for failure to fire within the time limit.

Xenia, which made the top 10 for the first time, has a 32.9-point spread over its 13 victims. The Greene County boys are averaging 75.5 to the foes' 42.6. The Xenia club, with one strong addition, is the same which reached the regional finals last year—and the current edition is considered a big threat to top-ranked Dayton Roosevelt in this year's tournament play.

Salem's 5-11 guard, Dave Hunter, missed the school scoring record by three as he tallied 34 in the 90-59 win over Youngstown South—and Coach John Cabas took him out with 5:31 remaining. He came right back with 30 in the 75-56 win over East Liverpool, hoisting his average to 21.6.

New Boston clinched its fifth consecutive Southern Ohio Conference crown Friday by beating Class AA Portsmouth East 69-30, with Leroy Frazier, All-Ohio second stringer last year, scoring 29. In the five-year reign New Boston has a 101-9 record, with more than half the games against double-A opposition.

Walnut Twp. stalled for 26 of the 32 minutes in the Pickaway County League, but the slow-down didn't help as Ashville won its eighth straight in the loop by 32-34. Only two shots were taken in the third quarter, one by each team, and both were good for two points.

Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost records of the leaders.

Big 'O' Rips Nets Merrily, Dropping 62 Points in Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's one thing about Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson — he just doesn't know when to leave the record books alone.

Take Monday night. The Big O, who already is college basketball's all-time scorer, hit a personal all-time high with 62 points against North Texas State, as the top-ranked Bearcats now 18-1, easily won, 123-74.

That raised his career total to 2662 as he continues to improve on the old mark of 2,587, which he broke last Saturday night. Now he seems intent on seeing to it that no one is going to break his for a long time.

Robertson's tremendous performance overshadowed another fine job by West Virginia's Jerry West, who scored 35 points in leading the Mountaineers to a 98-69 victory over a fine New York University team for their 42nd straight home victory.

Bradley, still ranked second in the latest Associated Press poll, coasted to a 78-57 Missouri Valley victory over Houston, while fifth-ranked Ohio State made its Big Ten lead almost untouchable with a 106-69 triumph over Wisconsin.

Georgia Tech, No. 6 and the only other top-ranked club in action, defeated Louisiana State 78-56.

During one six-minute span Robertson scored 21 points. He hit a torrid 23 of 29 field goal attempts and 16 of 19 free throws, and pulled in 19 rebounds.

Elsewhere in the Big Ten, Michigan State defeated Illinois 78-77, Northwestern swept to a 66-64 victory over Minnesota overcoming a 13-point halftime deficit; Indiana won its fourth straight Big Ten game, 87-74 over Iowa; and Terry Dischinger got 29 points in pacing Purdue to a 79-65 win over Michigan.

Oklahoma kept a glimmer of hope for a Big Eight title with a 63-54 win over Nebraska and Colorado won its sixth straight, 48-40, over Oklahoma State in another Big Eight game. St. Louis, which meets Cincinnati Friday night, defeated Oklahoma City 73-59.

North Carolina, idle last week, hustled past Clemson in an Atlantic Coast conference game, 73-54. Virginia Tech tied West Virginia for the Southern Conference lead with a 82-66 victory over William & Mary.

Pot of Gold Cage Tournament Slated At Chillicothe

The Mt. Logan Athletic Club of Chillicothe has completed plans for its annual "Pot of Gold" basketball tournament.

Independent cage teams from this area are invited to participate. Applications will be taken until February 20 and the entry fee is $25.

Awards for the first four places in the tourney are: first, $100 trophy; second, $75 trophy; third, $50 trophy; and fourth, $25 trophy.

Drawings will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the First EUB Church at Main and Brownell Sts. Games will be played at the new Mt. Logan gymnasium.

Team rosters should be sent to Robert Kauffman, Tournament Manager, 256 S. McArthur St., Chillicothe.

Pinson Signs Contract With Cincy Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vada Pinson, slugging young outfielder who was the Cincinnati Reds' best hitter last year, has signed for 1960.

The club announced the signing Monday at Pinson's Oakland, Calif., home. Pinson, playing in all 154 games, batted .316 and led the Reds in at-bats, runs, hits, doubles, triples and stolen bases.

Cincinnati '5' Keeps Top Spot

Bradley Holds No. 2 In National Ratings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati continues to show the way in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll with Oscar Robertson breaking records as he goes.

The voting of 191 sports writers and sportscasters, based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 6, left the first six positions unchanged from the previous week.

The newcomers among the top 20 were Holy Cross (16th) and Auburn (17th) while Kansas State, a loser, and idle St. Bonaventure dropped out.

The first 10 teams with points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Cincinnati (88)	1,798
2.	Bradley (20)	1,606
3.	California (33)	1,603
4.	Ohio State (19)	1,351
5.	West Virginia (9)	1,108
6.	Georgia Tech (2)	624
7.	Utah State (3)	588

Hillsboro Here Friday for Court Battle

Circleville's cage squad will make a determined bid to gain a share of the SCO League crown when Hillsboro comes here Friday night.

It will mark the last league game for the Tigers who are attempting to stay near the top of the loop standings. The locals are 8-3 in the circuit and in third place. Wilmington holds first with an 8-2 mark and Washington C. H. is second at 6-2.

Greenfield, also in the running, is in fourth place with six wins and three losses.

Another vital encounter Friday night pits Wilmington at Washington C. H. in a do-or-die struggle. A win by the host Blue Lions would shove Wilmington all the way to third place, providing Circleville beats Hillsboro. Greenfield entertains Pleasant View the same night and could better its standings.

• • •

WASHINGTON has the toughest schedule to face. Following Friday's battle with Wilmington, the Blue Lions head to Hillsboro Saturday night for another vital scrap.

On February 19, the WCH force goes to Greenfield for a battle which should go a long way in settling the league race.

Circleville probably will have its hands full with the Indians of Hillsboro who are formdiable opponents. The locals won the first test at Hillsboro, 57-49.

STEADY TEDDY — Here is "Terrible Teddy" the wrestling bear, all set for a match here tonight with Big Red Benson, a 284-pound mat performer. Two other bouts are slated at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, starting at 8:15.

Teddy Ready For Mat Scrap Here Tonight

"Terrible Teddy", the wrestling bear, will invade the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum tonight.

The huge bear will take on Big Red Benson in the feature bout of a three - match card. The first bout is slated to start at 8:15.

Two other matches will feature Chief Yakee Joe vs Chief George White Owl and Gene Dubois vs Charlie Garza.

The wrestling program is being sponsored here by the Circleville Booster Club and the Pickaway County Fair Grandstand Committee.

PROCEEDS will be devoted to the Booster Club's project to buy uniforms for the planned 7th and 8th grade football program here. The Fair group's project is the construction of a grandstand at the Fairgrounds.

"Terrible Teddy" stands about seven feet tall and tips the scales in the neighborhood of 600 pounds. The big animal has appeared on television and has wowed Columbus fans with his wrestling antics.

Benson weighs in at 284 pounds and should be able to furnish some sort of opposition for the ill-tempered bear.

Advance tickets are on sale at Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. Tickets also will be sold at the door.

Wrestling spokesmen said this will mark one of the last appearances of the bear in this area. The animal is slated for a trip to Florida within the next few days.

Still at the Plow

MARLBORO, N. J. (AP) — Some old Army mules not only never die, they don't even fade away.

Jack, for example, is a World War I veteran at 55 — almost twice the life span of the average mule. He's graying and rheumatic but still pulls a plow for owner J. Edward Naylor.

Lou Saban Signed As Boston Coach

BOSTON (AP) — Lou Saban, former college and pro star, has been named head coach of the Boston entry in the American Football League.

Saban, 38, was signed Monday to a three-year contract at what Boston General Manager Ed. McKeever called "very satisfactory" terms.

Saban played for Indiana University and the Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-America Conference and held coaching posts at Western Illinois, Case Institute, the University of Washington and Northwestern.

Bloomfield Team Needs 4 More Boys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Little Bloomfield High of Washington County has only 14 boys enrolled. Ten of them are on the basketball team.

Roger Williams, the center, is averaging 30.7 points per game one of the gaudiest marks in the state.

But to prove that basketball is a team game, Bloomfield has triumphed in only one of its 13 contests. Williams is just one of the standouts who will not be on hand March 25-26 when the scholastic stars battle for the state championship.

Bucks Stomp On Badgers In Flag Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State's Buckeyes took another stride toward their first Big Ten basketball title in 10 years by smashing Wisconson 106-69 Monday night for their eighth conference victory without defeat.

Sophomore Jerry Lucas and his high-scoring teammates need only three victories in their last six games to assure at least a share of the championship.

While the Buckeyes had things their own way at Madison, Purdue defeated Michigan 79-65 at Ann Arbor to take over second place and Indiana whipped Iowa 87-74 at Bloomington to move into a third place tie with Illinois.

Illinois dropped a 78-77 decision at Michigan State and Northwestern clipped Minnesota 66-64 at Minneapolis.

Only Purdue (5-3); Indians (4-3) and Illinois (4-3) have even remote hope of catching the talented Buckeyes.

Lucas pumped in 26 points against Wisconsin while four other Buckeyes scored in double figures with Larry Siegfried netting 22. Mel Nowell notched 18 and relief man Dick Furry 14.

The Badgers, cheered on by a home record crowd of 12,187, made a fight of it for 10 minutes. They led 18-15 and didn't surrender the lead for keeps until OSU went on top at 21-26.

Fromer there on it was all Ohio. The Bucks led 46-33 at halftime before burning the cords with 60 points in the second half, when Lucas meshed 17

ONG Cage Loop Slates 3 Games

Three games are on the cage card tonight in the local National Guard league.

Northwestern Rated No. 1 Among Class A Cagers Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big news in Class A circles this week is the emergene of Northwestern of Wayne County, 1958 state champion, as No. 1 in the Associated Press poll. The ex-kings, with a neat 18-0 record, climbed from third to first place this week as 46 sports writers participated in the ratings.

Van Del of Van Wert County, last week's leader, suffered its first loss—a 43-42 squeaker to Convoy-Union's 17-1 team. Salem Local of Urban, with 16-0, clung to second place.

Only change in the Class A top 10 personnel came as Fostoria St. Wendelin (15-1), eighth last week, dropped out to make room for Granville's unbeaten squad.

Three of the top 10 in Class AA suffered defeats, and two of them dropped from the elite. Lakewood's 13-game winning streak was halted by unbeaten Canton Timken, 63-56, as John Namciu scored 29 for the victors.

The win boosted Timken from fifth to fourth place, and dropped Lakewood from fourth to sixth. Springfield was victimized by Lima Senior, 62-61, and Pomeroy—in the ratings for the first time last week—was handed its first loss 54-53 by Jackson.

Both Springfield and Pomeroy were ousted, and Toledo Scott (14-1) moved into seventh and unbeaten Xenia (13-0) into ninth.

The top three, Dayton Roosevelt, Cleveland East Tech and Salem, stayed where they were.

From here and there: East Tech's defending Class AA champions end their regular season Friday against Cleveland Cathedral Lain. The Scarabas have won 14 straight after dropping the opener.

Trumbull County's 40th Class A tournament opens next Tuesday, with Vienna (15-3) and Lordstown (15-4) the top-seeded teams. Vienna plays unbeaten Lowellville (15-0) tonight.

Massillon and Mansfield played an experimental game Saturday, using the professional rule which forces a team to shoot within 24 seconds after getting the ball. Massillon won 62-60 in an overtime for a 13-3 record. Tiger coach Bob Greenwood says the rule is good for the spectators, but he doesn't think high school boys are ready for it. Each team lost the ball once for failure to fire within the time limit.

Xenia, which made the top 10 for the first time, has a 32.9-point spread over its 13 victims. The Greene County boys are averaging 75.5 to the foes' 42.6. The Xenia club, with one strong addition, is the same which reached the regional finals last year—and the current edition is considered a big threat to top-ranked Dayton Roosevelt in this year's tournament play.

Salem's 5-11 guard, Dave Hunter, missed the school scoring record by three as he tallied 34 in the 90-59 win over Youngstown South—and Coach John Cabas took him out with 5:31 remaining. He came right back with 30 in the 75-56 win over East Liverpool, hoisting his average to 21.6.

New Boston clinched its fifth consecutive Southern Ohio Conference crown Friday by beating Class AA Portsmouth East 69-30, with Leroy Frazier, All-Ohio second stringer last year, scoring 29. In the five-year reign New Boston has a 101-9 record, with more than half the games against double-A opposition.

Walnut Twp. stalled for 26 of the 32 minutes in the Pickaway County League, but the slow-down didn't help as Ashville won its eighth straight in the loop by 32-34. Only two shots were taken in the third quarter, one by each team, and both were good for two points.

Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost records of the leaders.

Big 'O' Rips Nets Merrily, Dropping 62 Points in Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's one thing about Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson — he just doesn't know when to leave the record books alone.

Take Monday night. The Big O, who already is college basketball's all-time scorer, hit a personal all-time high with 62 points against North Texas State, as the top-ranked Bearcats now 18-1, easily won, 123-74.

That raised his career total to 2662 as he continues to improve on the old mark of 2,587, which he broke last Saturday night. Now he seems intent on seeing to it that no one is going to break his for a long time.

Robertson's tremendous performance overshadowed another fine job by West Virginia's Jerry West, who scored 35 points in leading the Mountaineers to a 98-69 victory over a fine New York University team for their 42nd straight home victory.

Bradley, still ranked second in the latest Associated Press poll, coasted to a 78-57 Missouri Valley victory over Houston, while fifth-ranked Ohio State made its Big Ten lead almost untouchable with a 106-69 triumph over Wisconsin.

Georgia Tech, No. 6 and the only other top-ranked club in action, defeated Louisiana State 78-56.

During one six-minute span Robertson scored 21 points. He hit a torrid 23 of 29 field goal attempts and 16 of 19 free throws, and pulled in 19 rebounds.

Elsewhere in the Big Ten, Michigan State defeated Illinois 78-77, Northwestern swept to a 66-64 victory over Minnesota overcoming a 13-point halftime deficit; Indiana won its fourth straight Big Ten game, 87-74 over Iowa; and Terry Dischinger got 29 points in pacing Purdue to a 79-65 win over Michigan.

Oklahoma kept a glimmer of hope for a Big Eight title with a 63-54 win over Nebraska and Colorado won its sixth straight, 48-40, over Oklahoma State in another Big Eight game. St. Louis, which meets Cincinnati Friday night, defeated Oklahoma City 73-59.

North Carolina, idle last week, hustled past Clemson in an Atlantic Coast conference game, 73-54. Virginia Tech tied West Virginia for the Southern Conference lead with a 82-66 victory over William & Mary.

Pot of Gold Cage Tournament Slated At Chillicothe

The Mt. Logan Athletic Club of Chillicothe has completed plans for its annual "Pot of Gold" basketball tournament.

Independent cage teams from this area are invited to participate. Applications will be taken until February 20 and the entry fee is $25.

Awards for the first four places in the tourney are: first, $100 trophy; second, $75 trophy; third, $50 trophy; and fourth, $25 trophy.

Drawings will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the First EUB Church at Main and Brownell Sts. Games will be played at the new Mt. Logan gymnasium.

Team rosters should be sent to Robert Kauffman, Tournament Manager, 256 S. McArthur St., Chillicothe.

Pinson Signs Contract With Cincy Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vada Pinson, slugging young outfielder who was the Cincinnati Reds' best hitter last year, has signed for 1960.

The club announced the signing Monday at Pinson's Oakland, Calif., home. Pinson, playing in all 154 games, batted .316 and led the Reds in at-bats, runs, hits, doubles, triples and stolen bases.

Bradley Holds No. 2 In National Ratings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati continues to show the way in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll with Oscar Robertson breaking records as he goes.

The voting of 191 sports writers and sportscasters, based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 6, left the first six positions unchanged from the previous week.

The newcomers among the top 20 were Holy Cross (16th) and Auburn (17th) while Kansas State, a loser, and idle St. Bonaventure dropped out.

The first 10 teams with points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Cincinnati (88)	1,798
2.	Bradley (20)	1,606

Hillsboro Here Friday for Court Battle

Circleville's cage squad will make a determined bid to gain a share of the SCO League crown when Hillsboro comes here Friday night.

It will mark the last league game for the Tigers who are attempting to stay near the top of the loop standings. The locals are 8-3 in the circuit and in third place. Wilmington holds first with an 8-2 mark and Washington C. H. is second at 6-2.

Greenfield, also in the running, is in fourth place with six wins and three losses.

Another vital encounter Friday night pits Wilmington at Washington C. H. in a do-or-die struggle. A win by the host Blue Lions would shove Wilmington all the way to third place, providing Circleville beats Hillsboro. Greenfield entertains Pleasant View the same night and could better its standings.

* * *

WASHINGTON has the toughest schedule to face. Following Friday's battle with Wilmington, the Blue Lions head to Hillsboro Saturday night for another vital scrap.

On February 19, the WCH force goes to Greenfield for a battle which should go a long way in settling the league race.

Circleville probably will have its hands full with the Indians of Hillsboro who are formdiable opponents. The locals won the first test at Hillsboro, 57-49.

STEADY TEDDY — Here is "Terrible Teddy" the wrestling bear, all set for a match here tonight with Big Red Benson, a 284-pound mat performer. Two other bouts are slated at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, starting at 8:15.

Teddy Ready For Mat Scrap Here Tonight

"Terrible Teddy", the wrestling bear, will invade the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum tonight.

The huge bear will take on Big Red Benson in the feature bout of a three - match card. The first bout is slated to start at 8:15.

Two other matches will feature Chief Yakee Joe vs Chief George White Owl and Gene Dubois vs Charlie Garza.

The wrestling program is being sponsored here by the Circleville Booster Club and the Pickaway County Fair Grandstand Committee.

PROCEEDS will be devoted to the Booster Club's project to buy uniforms for the planned 7th and 8th grade football program here. The Fair group's project is the construction of a grandstand at the Fairgrounds.

"Terrible Teddy" stands about seven feet tall and tips the scales in the neighborhood of 600 pounds. The big animal has appeared on television and has wowed Columbus fans with his wrestling antics.

Benson weighs in at 284 pounds and should be able to furnish some sort of opposition for the ill-tempered bear.

Advance tickets are on sale at Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. Tickets also will be sold at the door.

Wrestling spokesmen said this will mark one of the last appearances of the bear in this area. The animal is slated for a trip to Florida within the next few days.

Still at the Plow

MARLBORO, N. J. (AP) — Some old Army mules not only never die, they don't even fade away.

Jack, for example, is a World War I veteran at 55 — almost twice the life span of the average mule. He's graying and rheumatic but still pulls a plow for owner J. Edward Naylor.

Lou Saban Signed As Boston Coach

BOSTON (AP) — Lou Saban, former college and pro star, has been named head coach of the Boston entry in the American Football League.

Saban, 38, was signed Monday to a three-year contract at what Boston General Manager Ed. McKeever called "very satisfactory" terms.

Saban played for Indiana University and the Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-America Conference and held coaching posts at Western Illinois, Case Institute, the University of Washington and Northwestern.

Bloomfield Team Needs 4 More Boys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Little Bloomfield High of Washington County has only 14 boys enrolled. Ten of them are on the basketball team.

Roger Williams, the center, is averaging 30.7 points per game one of the gaudiest marks in the state.

But to prove that basketball is a team game, Bloomfield has triumphed in only one of its 13 contests. Williams is just one of the standouts who will not be on hand March 25-26 when the scholastic stars battle for the state championship.

Bucks Stomp On Badgers In Flag Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State's Buckeyes took another stride toward their first Big Ten basketball title in 10 years by smashing Wisconson 106-69 Monday night for their eighth conference victory without defeat.

Sophomore Jerry Lucas and his high-scoring teammates need only three victories in their last six games to assure at least a share of the championship.

While the Buckeyes had things their own way at Madison, Purdue defeated Michigan 79-65 at Ann Arbor to take over second place and Indiana whipped Iowa 87-74 at Bloomington to move into a third place tie with Illinois.

Illinois dropped a 78-77 decision at Michigan State and Northwestern clipped Minnesota 66-64 at Minneapolis.

Only Purdue (5-3); Indians (4-3) and Illinois (4-3) have even remote hope of catching the talented Buckeyes.

Lucas pumped in 26 points against Wisconsin while four other Buckeyes scored in double figures with Larry Siegfried netting 22. Mel Nowell notched 18 and relief man Dick Furry 14.

The Badgers, cheered on by a home record crowd of 12,187, made a fight of it for 10 minutes. They led 18-15 and didn't surrender the lead for keeps until OSU went on top at 21-26.

Fromer there on it was all Ohio. The Bucks led 46-33 at halftime before burning the cords with 60 points in the second half, when Lucas meshed 17

ONG Cage Loop Slates 3 Games

Three games are on the cage card tonight in the local National Guard league.

Thr first game bills Hanley's Pizza vs Ashville Lumber, followed by Veterans of Foreign Wars. Herff Jones vs the Circleville Merchants marks the third game.

The contests are slated at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St.

18. Houses for Sale

G E O R G E C. B A R N E S
REALTOR

H is for a house for your home, for better or for worse, the most effective institution on earth. Own one but do not pay too dear for it.

Located North: one floor plan, brick masonry construction. All new built-in kitchen cabinets (Philipine Mahogany) and dining area. Dining or family room, carpeted living room, wood or coal fireplace, tiled bath with shower, three bedrooms, plenty closets, central gas heating system, hardwood floors, panelling in living room. Two car garage. Large corner lot in a one hundred percent residential area.

Fine larger brick and frame house: 8 rooms, bath, gas furnace, also three room apartment with separate heat and entrance. Now rented. (both units). Located North.

Four rooms, bath, basement, carpeted living room, all oak floors, gas central heat, disposal, house fully insulated, low gas bills, lot 50 x 100 in good location, rather close-in North.

South: Lot 91 x 373½ (34034 sq. ft.) improved with a seven room house (5 rms. down 2 up) basement under kitchen, open front porch, screened rear porch, gas, electricity including 220 service. Deep drilled well with proper pump (power). This is a solid older house that will make a good family home, or can be easily made into a double. If you need a good sized house and large lot see this one.

Just North of East Ringgold: 20 acres of gently rolling land, fifteen acres of which are tillable, improved with a five room two story house, barn about 30 x 30 with shed and garage attached, 500 bu. steel corn crib, hay shed, good fences. 2 fields sown to rye go with farm. Priced like a modest city house.

Five rooms, half bath; also small 3 room house which needs repair, only $5500.00.

Friends, creditors, and debtors, we have started our 22nd licensed year in a new location, for your convenience as well as ours, see us at

1. Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to all my relatives, friends and neighbors who remembered me with cards, letters, flowers and gifts during my stay in Berger Hospital. Also, I enjoyed your visits at the hospital and visits at my home too. You have my everlasting gratitude.

Mrs. Ralph Fisher

We desire to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the relatives and friends for the sympathy and kindness shown during the illness and death of our beloved Jean Eldridge. We especially wish to thank the friends who sent her many many cards and flowers at the hospital. These things were appreciated by Jean and we shall always remember your kindness. Our healtfiet thanks.

Mr. Ronald Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tomlinson and family.

H is for a house for your home, for better or for worse, the most effective institution on earth. Own one but do not pay too dear for it.

Located North: one floor plan, brick masonry construction. All new built-in kitchen cabinets (Philipine Mahogany) and dining area. Dining or family room, carpeted living room, wood or coal fireplace, tiled bath with shower, three bedrooms, plenty closets, central gas heating system, hardwood floors, panelling in living room. Two car garage. Large corner lot in a one hundred percent residential area.

Fine larger brick and frame house: 8 rooms, bath, gas furnace, also three room apartment with separate heat and entrance. Now rented. (both units). Located North.

Four rooms, bath, basement, carpeted living room, all oak floors, gas central heat, disposal, house fully insulated, low gas bills, lot 50 x 100 in good location, rather close-in North.

South: Lot 91 x 373½ (34034 sq. ft.) improved with a seven room house (5 rms. down 2 up) basement under kitchen, open front porch, screened rear porch, gas, electricity including 220 service. Deep drilled well with proper pump (power). This is a solid older house that will make a good family home, or can be easily made into a double. If you need a good sized house and large lot see this one.

Just North of East Ringgold: 20 acres of gently rolling land, fifteen acres of which are tillable, improved with a five room two story house, barn about 30 x 30 with shed and garage attached, 500 bu. steel corn crib, hay shed, good fences. 2 fields sown to rye go with farm. Priced like a modest city house.

Five rooms, half bath; also small 3 room house which needs repair, only $5500.00.

Friends, creditors, and debtors, we have started our 22nd licensed year in a new location, for your convenience as well as ours, see us at

Casy Joins List Of Hopeful Pilots

By CASEY STENGEL
Manager, New York Yankees

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Well, I've been reading this series and I see where each manager in the American League thinks his ball club is better balanced for the 1960 season than it was a year ago. Quite a few managers expect to win the pennant.

Last year I thought we had the strongest team in the spring and I was looking for a fifth straight pennant. But that wasn't to be. We got off to a bad start and never fully recovered. Our pitching was below par and so was our punch. We had a lot of injuries but that's not meant to be an alibi. We just had a bad year. . . Many of our top stars were way below par.

That shouldn't happen again this year for this is still a young ball club and only a partial recovery would put the Yankees in a much more favorable position. I'll admit that the top contenders appear to have improved over the winter by trades. . . but so have we.

Last year's second division clubs probably will have to be reckoned with. Baltimore gave up pitching to get some outfield power. But the Orioles still have good young pitchers and should be a better club this year. Boston has done a lot of shuffling and so has Kansas City. Both these clubs should be improved as should Washington.

Now let's take a look at the Yankees. We have the best catching in the league. Yogi Berra improved his hitting last year though his power fell off slightly. But he's a valuable man. Elston Howard is certainly a great man to back up Yogi.

At first, Bill Skowron looked like he was going to have one of his best seasons when he got hurt. Our doctors say he's 100 per cent now. Bobby Richardson, our second baseman, was our only regular to hit .300. Tony Kubek improved his hitting and he is developing into a good shortstop.

Andy Carey is a good third baseman and he's back in shape. Gil McDougald is sure to hit better. We have some other young infield prospects and I feel we're strong here with real major leaguers right down the line.

The outfield is improved with the addition of Roger Maris from Kansas City. Mickey Mantle had an off year, but there's no reason why he shouldn't come back. He's still young (28). Hector Lopez gave us a lot of big hits last year and he's a good RBI man.

I purpose left pitching for last. We think we've got the makings of a good staff with fine young prospects coming up from the minors, headed by lefty Bill Short, top pitcher in the International League last year. Art Ditmar did a good job as starter and relief pitcher last year and should continue to improve. Bob Turley was way off but his arm is sound and he should come back. Whitey Ford is still a winner and if he's sound he could be our big man again. Ryne Duren will help in the bullpen if his wrist has healed. Jim Coates came fast and Bobby Shantz, John Gabler and Eli Grba all can help us.

Before I finish, I want to mention youngster like Deron Johnson, Jack Reed and Ken Hunt who could add punch and speed to the outfield.

Next—Eddie Sawyer, Philadelphia Phillies.

Sugar Lacks Crown, but Amasses Cash

BOSTON (AP)—Old pro Sugar Ray Robinson may be the challenger now but he still gets the lion's share of the profits.

The dapper old master of the middleweights has signed for a rematch with Paul Pender, the former Brookline, Mass., fireman who lifted Robinson's limited version of the world middleweight crown here Jan. 22.

Take a look at the financial arrangements for the nationally televised match in Boston April 29:

Total TV rights—$150,000.

Robinson's (challenger's) share of TV—$105,000.

Pender's (champion's) share of TV—$26,250.

Promoter's estimate of the gate—$100,000.

Robinson's share of the gate—30 per cent.

Pender's share of the gate—30 per cent.

Which leads one to believe that either (1) it doesn't pay to be the champion, or—more likely—(2) it does pay to be Robinson.

Robinson, now 39 and five-time holder of the middleweight crown, agreed to terms in New York Saturday. The Pender camp signed—without comment—Monday.

The National Boxing Assn. had stripped Robinson of his title in all the states but Massachusetts and New York before he went against the 10th-ranked Pender. Pender beat him in a 15-round split decision.

5 Clubs Now Signed For Garden Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Memphis State and Providence today were picked for the 12-team National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 10-19.

Five clubs now have been selected. Dayton, Villanova and Detroit previously were named by Ken Norton of Manhattan, chairman of the selection committee.

REIGN CLOUD — Showers of praise and sunny smiles were heaped on Florence Cloud, 20, after she was named 1960 "Florida Citrus Queen" in Cypress Gardens, Fla. She will travel across the U. S. to promote Florida orange juice and sunshine.

Stilt Needs only 13 Points for Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Philadelphia's prolific point producer, needs only 13 points in the Warriors' game against Detroit tonight to set a National Basketball Assn. single-season scoring record.

The 7-foot-1 Stilt, with 2,093 points in 55 games and an average of 38 a game, is leading his closest pursuer in the league's individual scoring race by more than 400 points.

The previous standard of 2,105 points was set by St. Louis' Bob Pettit over the full 72-game program last year when he averaged a record 29.2 points.

In the first ABC bowling tournament in 1901 there were 41 teams in action. Now more than 5,000 five-man teams bowl annually in the tournament.

Sugar Lacks Crown, but Amasses Cash

BOSTON (AP)—Old pro Sugar Ray Robinson may be the challenger now but he still gets the lion's share of the profits.

The dapper old master of the middleweights has signed for a rematch with Paul Pender, the former Brookline, Mass., fireman who lifted Robinson's limited version of the world middleweight crown here Jan. 22.

Take a look at the financial arrangements for the nationally televised match in Boston April 29:

Total TV rights—$150,000.

Robinson's (challenger's) share of TV—$105,000.

Pender's (champion's) share of TV—$26,250.

Promoter's estimate of the gate —$100,000.

Robinson's share of the gate—30 per cent.

Pender's share of the gate—30 per cent.

Which leads one to believe that either (1) it doesn't pay to be the champion, or—more likely—(2) it does pay to be Robinson.

Robinson, now 39 and five-time holder of the middleweight crown, agreed to terms in New York Saturday. The Pender camp signed—without comment—Monday.

The National Boxing Assn. had stripped Robinson of his title in all the states but Massachusetts and New York before he went against the 10th-ranked Pender. Pender beat him in a 15-round split decision.

5 Clubs Now Signed For Garden Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Memphis State and Providence today were picked for the 12-team National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 10-19.

Five clubs now have been selected. Dayton, Villanova and Detroit previously were named by Ken Norton of Manhattan, chairman of the selection committee.

REIGN CLOUD — Showers of praise and sunny smiles were heaped on Florence Cloud, 20, after she was named 1960 "Florida Citrus Queen" in Cypress Gardens, Fla. She will travel across the U. S. to promote Florida orange juice and sunshine.

Stilt Needs only 13 Points for Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Philadelphia's prolific point producer, needs only 13 points in the Warriors' game against Detroit tonight to set a National Basketball Assn. single-season scoring record.

The 7-foot-1 Stilt, with 2,093 points in 55 games and an average of 38 a game, is leading his closest pursuer in the league's individual scoring race by more than 400 points.

The previous standard of 2,105 points was set by St. Louis' Bob Pettit over the full 72-game program last year when he averaged a record 29.2 points.

In the first ABC bowling tournament in 1901 there were 41 teams in action. Now more than 5,000 five-man teams bowl annually in the tournament.

Wellington Train Crash Hearing Opens

CLEVELAND (AP)—The New York Central Railroad has opened a hearing on the derailment of its Southwestern Limited at Wellington, Ohio, Jan. 10 in which four persons were killed and 45 were injured.

There was no indication how long the hearing would last. It is closed to newsmen.

The St. Louis-to-Cleveland passenger train was being transferred to a westbound track in order to pass a freight when the three diesel units and seven cars left the rails.

William B. Salter of Indianapolis general manager of the NYC's southern district, said following the wreck that the train was going 80 miles an hour when it hurtled off the tracks. He said the maximum permissible speed through the crossover switch is 15 miles an hour.

Marion Tudor, a 20-year-old shipping clerk who pulled the injured engineer, Henry W. Kerstein 63, of Cleveland, from his cab, said Kerstein told him the air pressure brakes and speedometer had failed.

Cleveland, Ohio, was originally named Cleaveland. The "a" was later dropped from the spelling.

All in the Family

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—This is the 45th year that you can get an answer by phoning the Lancaster Police Department and asking for "Hutsler." In fact, you can get two replies.

Sam Hutsler is chief of police. He was sworn in as a patrolman Aug. 1, 1940, the day his father, Sgt. Charles Hutsler, retired after 25 years. And Chief Hutsler's son, Ronald, 26, has followed family tradition. He joined the force Jan.

Idiot Sheets OK For Politicians?

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If Red Skelton or George Gobel have to be honest," asks Sen. Richard E. Neuberger (D-Ore), "what of (television) programs which seek to elect a president, senator, or governor?"

Neuberger says the recent publicity about television rigging gives the government a good opportunity to outlaw teleprompters in campaigning.

"Teleprompters can make the dullest oaf appear as if he could recite the statistical abstract without a single note," he said.

"If this isn't basically deceitful and dishonest, then what is?"

Old Friends Reunited

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Anthony R. Mazullo was looking through the Atlantic City Press when he saw a photo of a man and his wife celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. The man looked vaguely familiar.

A phone call confirmed Mazullo's suspicions. He and the man in the photo, Michael Aluise, had been childhood friends in Philadelphia but had not seen or talked to each other in 60 years.
